MEXICO WILL SETTLE LAND LAWS AMIABLY

Friendly Feeling Exists With U. S. in Petroleum Controversy

WARREN HELPS KELLOGG

Former Ambassador to Mexico Has Full Confidence of That Country

Washington.—The acute feeling between the governments of Mexico and the United States has been superseded by a sentiment of pronounced friendliness in the controversy over the petroleum land laws. While the exact formula for the settlement has not been found yet, a spirit of approach to a settlement is better today than it has been since the new land laws were passed by the Mexican congress in December.

Secretary Kellogg has found that in dealing with the Mexican government the latter can be relied upon to see that international obligations as well as a spirit of equity requires an examination of every internal act in the light of external effects.

In asserting sovereign rights, Mexico is looked upon as exercising a natural and inherent prerogative but the question of making a law retroactive which might be confiscatory is something which all nations have looked upon as a delicate problem which cannot be handled in-sided fashion.

IS LEGITIMATE DESIRE
The desire of Mexico to control her subsoil rights and to regulate foreign ownership is viewed by American officials as legitimate. It is merely a question of how these laws shall operate. Mexico has not yet proclaimed her regulations which give effect to new laws. The Mexican government therefore is somewhat disturbed that prematurely these should have been inferred drawn that confiscatory acts would follow. It still remains possible for the Mexican government by its regulations to draw a line between confiscation which is by international law recognized as unfriendly and control.

Thus the United States government has the sovereign right to require any diplomatic officers of foreign governments to conform absolutely to American law in their residence here. But such a step would be followed by the withdrawal of reciprocal privileges abroad.

PROBLEM OF RECIPROCITY
The examples could be multiplied of the same thing. The whole problem therefore becomes one of reciprocity. Would Mexico be justified as a matter of policy in enforcing literally some of laws she has passed especially if by so doing she might lose reciprocal benefits in other directions not only with the United States but with other foreign governments? American officials think it would be unwise and are urging in a spirit of friendliness that the solution be based upon such considerations.

In working out the dilemma, Secretary Kellogg has at his side Charles E. Warren of Detroit, formerly ambassador to Mexico—the man who worked out one of the most difficult of all Mexican questions, namely, the general and special claims growing out of the revolutionary disturbances and the passage of agrarian laws that were held to be confiscatory.

Warren has the confidence of Mexico to an extraordinary extent. They know he has tried to be an impartial judge and to see Mexico's viewpoint. The correspondence between the two governments in the last few days shows that both sides are trying to reach an amicable objective and while the barriers are difficult they are not altogether insurmountable.

LADY MOSLEY SHUNS SOCIETY AT CHICAGO
Chicago.—(AP)—Lady Cynthia Mosley is in the city where her mother, Mary Leiter, was a popular belle of society when she married Lord Curzon 30 years ago. The society has seen nothing of the titled visitor. Instead, residents of the "Gold Coast" have read of Lady Cynthia's visit to national headquarters of the Socialist party and to Hull House, and perused a program of future activities which includes a trip to Milwaukee to meet Victor Berger, Socialist congressman, and visits to mines and pottery plants. "There is an international bond between Socialists," explained the grand daughter of Lord Z. Leiter, pioneer Chicago merchant. With her husband, Captain Oswald Mosley, Labor member of the British parliament, Lady Cynthia is here to participate in a legal contest involving her grandfather's 100,000 estate.

Rich Indian Maharajah Gives Throne To His Son

Bombay.—(AP)—The wealthy Maharajah of Indore, storm center in a scandal involving the murder of a merchant friend of his favorite dancer, abdicated Saturday in favor of his son.

The Maharajah's heir is Prince Yeshwant Rao Holkar who was born in 1908 and who now comes as ruler over a state with an area of 9,500 square miles and a population of 1,150,000.

The dancing girl girl who figured in the scandal which has now cost the Maharajah his throne is Mumtaz Begum, one of his former favorites. Mumtaz escaped from the Maharajah's household and sought the protection of Abdul Kadir Bawla, a Bombay merchant of great wealth.

Early in January of last year she and her new protector were attacked by a group of armed men, allegedly in the employ of the Maharajah, while driving on Malabar hill in the outskirts of Bombay.

BRITISH OFFICERS HELP
A number of British officers, going nearby, rushed to the assistance of the pair and beat off their assailants but not before Bawla had been killed and the girl's beauty marked by a knife cut across the face.

The affair caused a great stir and seven officials connected with the Indore government were arrested and tried. Three were sentenced to death for the killing of Bawla and the other four were deported.

The Maharajah on Wednesday of this week was reported to be making a last attempt to save his throne by offering to hand over the government of Indore to a regency for two years, fully compensate all Britishers injured by his subjects in the Mumtaz Begum affair, and undertake extensive governmental and police reforms, replacing the administrative departments and police of Indore under English supervision where necessary.

PRINCE VISITED ENGLAND

Havana.—(AP)—Jacob Scheffir of Milwaukee, who was reported by Isaac D. Heller, a New Orleans lawyer, to be missing, was found late Thursday afternoon. He was being detained in a house on Stranalest, the victim of a "sure thing" market swindle.

Mr. Heller had been requested by a son of Scheffir, who lives in New Orleans, to search for his father. The swindler escaped.

A despatch from Havana Friday night said that Mr. Heller had informed the police of the disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Scheffir of Milwaukee. Heller told the authorities that he had brought $35,000 to Cuba for the couple but had been unable to find them.

WIFE OF MILWAUKEE STAR EDITOR SUCCEUMS
Kansas City, Mo.—(AP)—Mrs. Laura Nelson Kirkwood, wife of the publisher of the Kansas City Star, was found dead in the Bellevue Hotel in Baltimore, Md., Saturday morning. This information came to the Star in a long distance telephone message Saturday.

Mrs. Kirkwood was the daughter of William Rockhill Nelson, for many years editor and owner of the Kansas City Star. Mrs. Kirkwood herself was publisher of the Kansas City Times.

Death was due to heart disease.

FOUR CHILDREN DIE AS FIRE DESTROYS HOME
Connellsville, Pa.—(AP)—Four children, the oldest four years and the youngest three and a half months, were burned to death near Indian Head, 10 miles from here, when the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Snyder, was destroyed by fire. The parents were absent from home at the time.

Live and Sleep Comfortably
Was really the invitation extended to the people of Appleton, by Mr. D. M. Frank, 207 S. Cherry Street, through a little ad in the classified section.

This little ad offered a 3-piece livingroom set, and a walnut bedroom set for sale.

A number of people found the invitation particularly appealing, and hastened at once to Mr. Frank's home, to look over these two sets.

In a very short time, both had been sold.

If YOU would like to create a desire for these household goods you'd like to dispose of—try one of these Post-Crescent ads.

DENY RELEASE TO MURDERER OF POLICEMAN

Man Charged With Slaying of Madison Officer Loses Ground in Defense

Madison.—(AP)—Rudolph Jessner, charged with murder in connection with the slaying on Jan. 5 of Palmer Thompson, a policeman, in Madison's "Little Italy" was denied his release from jail by Circuit Judge A. C. Hoppmann in a habeas corpus hearing Saturday.

The procedure of District Attorney Phillip La Follette in preparing for the trial of Jessner, a restaurant proprietor, was attacked by defense counsel.

Fred M. Wylie, defense counsel, declared that "many members of the police force are surreptitiously members of the Ku Klux Klan and that these policemen had 'persecuted' Jessner, a Jew."

"Scores of prospective witnesses have been questioned by the state behind closed doors in the menacing presence of the very officer whose conduct was in question," he said, referring to Earl W. Hiestand, companion officer of Thompson when the latter was fatally shot.

District Attorney La Follette said he was opposed to "religious prejudice in any form." He added that he had no objection to an investigation of his methods of preparing for the trial, as suggested by Wylie.

William Rubin, Milwaukee, who is aiding in the defense, said he wanted the case to go to trial March 23, "but if this sort of agitation is to continue I fear with a great deal of apprehension, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had."

Judge Hoppmann denied a request by defense counsel that William T. Ewy, local newspaper editor, be cited for contempt of court for the publication of two editorials regarding the case.

YOUTHS ADMIT SLAYING OF ELDERLY FARMER
Mandan, N. D.—(AP)—Two youths 18 and 20 years old, one of them a grandson of the victim, have confessed, authorities said Saturday, to the murder of Fred Stoller, 73-year-old farmer, who was beaten to death in his home near Carson last Saturday.

The boys are William Stoller, 18, and Aron Horst, 20. They were arrested with a third youth in connection with a recent burglary and statements by their companion, who was not implicated in the murder, led to their questioning and alleged confession.

Horst early Saturday took officers to his mother's farm near Carson and unearthed $3,380 in currency, his share of the money ripped from the clothes of Stoller who distrustful banks and carried all his wealth in cash on his person.

Stoller was reported to have had $5,000 sewed in his clothing.

OPTIMISTIC SPIRIT SPRINGS UP AT U. W.
Madison.—(AP)—A new spirit of optimism and desire for creative mind training has sprung up at the U. W.iversity of Wisconsin in the past year, Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, told an audience of Superior and Duluth alumni Friday night at the annual University of Wisconsin alumni meeting in Duluth. Dean Goodnight said the outlook at present for the future prosperity and service of the University was brighter than it had ever been before.

RAIL SUPERINTENDENTS EXCHANGE POSITIONS
Green Bay.—Transfer of Frank C. Dow, for the past two years superintendent of the Superior division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, with headquarters at Green Bay, to superintendent of the Racine and Southwestern division with headquarters at Beloit, Wis., effective March 1, was announced here Saturday.

F. E. Devlin, former superintendent at Beloit, will succeed Mr. Dow here.

WARMER WEATHER WILL ARRIVE BY SUNDAY
Milwaukee.—(AP)—A brief and unrelentingly cold wave which forced the mercury down to 10 above zero at 6 a. m. is scheduled to depart Saturday and warmer weather is promised for Sunday. The cold wave came riding in on the heels of the heaviest snow fall of the season which left the state covered with a blanket of snow from 5 inches to a foot thick.

CAL FEARFUL OF DEFICIT BY NEXT YEAR

Hopes Congress Will Go Slowly in Approving Additional Appropriations

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Provisions of the new tax reduction bill were in operation Saturday, with President Coolidge holding the belief that the measure will cause a treasury deficit of $100,000,000 at the end of the next fiscal year.

Further reductions may be possible within a few years as the public debt is lowered but in the meantime, Mr. Coolidge hopes congress will go slowly in approving measures calling for additional appropriations. He has particularly in mind the proposals for increasing by about 10 per cent the expenditures in behalf of the army and navy.

The threat of a treasury deficit at the end of the next fiscal year may be removed if congress is careful of the government's finances. Mr. Coolidge thinks, and he foresees additional revenue for the treasury if the tax reduction effects increased prosperity throughout the country.

In addition to the widespread tax reductions, the bill effects changes in the administrative provisions. The treasury is limited to three years in the administrative provisions. The treasury is limited to three years in the administrative provisions. The treasury is limited to three years in the administrative provisions.

Hold Racine Man ON MURDER CHARGE
Racine.—(AP)—The coroner's jury which heard the evidence Saturday morning in the case of the slaying of Frank Sierozynski found that the latter's death was caused by a bullet fired from a .32 calibre revolver. The jury further recommended that Arthur Greco, now being held in jail, be charged with the murder. District Attorney Potter said he would cause a warrant charging first degree murder to be issued at once.

Mrs. Greco, wife of the accused and sister of the slain man, was the principal witness at the inquest. She related how, when her husband came home intoxicated, she ran down stairs and hid in the cellar where she remained in a half frozen condition until found by the sheriff and deputies. She testified that while in the basement she heard others descend the stairs into the yard and that she heard six shots fired. She was unable to tell who fired the shots, however.

As she completed the telling of her story she swooned on the stand and was caught by officers.

Greco, when asked if he desired to take the stand and tell his story of the shooting, smiled and replied that he did not. His contention has been that several men whose identity is unknown to him did the shooting.

CONGRESS MEETS FARM DELEGATES NEXT WEEK
Washington.—(AP)—George M. Peek, of Chicago, chairman of the executive committee appointed by the North Central States agriculture conference in Des Moines, visited the capital Saturday to make arrangements for representatives of eleven states to appear before the house agriculture committee in the interest of farm relief legislation. Hearings will begin next week. Members of the committee and representatives of farm organizations are arriving here and Governors Hamill of Iowa and Gunderson of South Dakota are expected. Besides these states, there will be delegates from Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

COPS FIND TINY CLEW TO SLAYERS OF PALS
St. Paul, Minn.—(AP)—Detectives investigating the murder of two policemen here last Tuesday found a police rubber, apparently torn from a revolver handle, near the scene of the shooting. This clew, police announced Saturday is the most tangible they have found in their search for the two men who wounded the policemen and then shot them to death as they lay helpless in the street.

Two Appleton Beauties Enter Miss Venus Contest

The first two entries for the Appleton Venus beauty contest sponsored by the Appleton Post-Crescent and Fischer's Appleton theater were received by the Contest Editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent Saturday morning. All Appleton beauties are urged to send in their applications and photographs soon, for the contest closes on March 5.

The winning girls will be announced and crowned by Mayor John Goodland at the showing of The American Venus at Fischer's Appleton theater for four days starting March 8.

Miss America Venus, the girl who will star in the picture, is Miss Fay Lanphier, the California girl who won the American Venus national beauty contest held at Atlantic City last summer. The Appleton girl, chosen by three women judges, who possesses physical perfection most nearly approximating that of Miss Lanphier, probably will be sent to the 1926 American Venus contest in Atlantic City this summer by the Appleton Post-Crescent and Fischer's Appleton Theater.

About $100 worth of prizes will be given away at this contest. The winning girl will receive a $50 gold piece, the girl selected as second in physical perfection, will be given an American Venus toilet set valued at about $40, and each entrant will receive a pair of tickets to a performance of the American Venus.

Miss Lanphier is a native daughter of a native daughter of California, it is said, and before her movie career following the 1925 Atlantic City contest, was employed as a stenographer in Los Angeles. But after her coronation as beauty queen of America, she was offered movie contracts and legitimate stage contracts. She accepted the offer made by the Paramount company, and the American Venus is her first picture.

JUDGES FOR THE APPLETON CONTEST will be Miss Dorothy Vestal, physical culture teacher at Appleton high school, Miss Blanche Barrow, physical culture teacher at Lawrence college, and Mrs. John Engel Jr. All selection will be made privately, and the public appearance of the winners will be in street dress, not in bathing suits.

Miss Lanphier has been selected from hundreds of pretty girls who had won in Venus contests in cities and states all over the United States, and the judges were 15 men whose names are nationally known as beauty experts, such as Earl Carroll of the Carroll Vanities, Louis St. John, John K. Sheridan, artist, T. Benda, artist, Laurence Hitt, art director of the Paramount eastern studio, Haskell Coffin, artist, and Frank Tuttle, director of the American Venus.

Miss Virginia Armstrong, Miss Milwaukee Venus, who won the Venus contest in Milwaukee last year was only 17 years old at the time. It is expected that Miss Armstrong will come to Appleton for The American Venus, and will appear on the stage of Fischer's Appleton theater in the bathing costume she wore at Atlantic City last summer.

Instructions for entering will be found on page 2.

ATTORNEY FOR "RED" EDITOR ARGUES CASE
Bradford, Mass.—(AP)—Henry Hoffmann, arguing for the defense in the Bimba blasphemy trial, said Saturday he was not concerned whether Bimba was convicted of blasphemy but asserted evidence was lacking to prove that he had urged the overthrow of the United States government.

"I am perfectly ready to go to a higher court on the blasphemy charge," he said, "because I am convinced that a man has a constitutional right to deny his belief in the existence of God."

Hoffmann then went into an analysis of the testimony to prove that Bimba had not urged the overthrow of the government when he spoke in Lithuanian national hall here on the night of January 26.

OSHKOSH REAL ESTATE MAN DENIED LICENSE
Madison.—(AP)—The application of C. C. Konrad, Oshkosh, for a real estate brokers license has been denied by the Wisconsin real estate board's announced Saturday. The board stated the license was denied because "of his connection with S. W. L. Nelson and other Minneapolis men in the sale of units of Montana oil lands in Oshkosh" upon which it was alleged no returns had been realized.

WILLIAM MANTON AND WIFE SETTLE MARITAL TROUBLES
New York.—(AP)—Reconciliation of William Kevitt Manton, actor, and his wife, Mrs. Mabel Manton, whom he has described in testimony as "the most beautiful woman in the world," has cleared Marjorie Kaneham, actress, of correspondence charges in a divorce suit brought by Mrs. Manton.

The couple adjusted their marital difficulties after the jury had been deadlocked for six hours Friday.

In the chambers of Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel the reconciliation was effected in a 30 minute conference. Mrs. Manton dropped her case. She had heard her husband testify that he still loved her and that there was no basis for her charges against Miss Kaneham.

KILLS REPORT TO CRITICIZE QUIZ OF FIRM

Vote Causes Senator Robinson to Drop Resolution to Make Coolidge Act

WALSH AND REED CLASH

Administration Opposed Action on Grounds That Senate Had No Authority

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—With party lines virtually intact, the senate has refused to formally criticize the department of justice for the course of its investigation to learn if the Aluminum Company of America has disregarded federal court decrees.

Friday night the judiciary committee majority report to that end. The votes of two Democrats—Elliott of South Carolina and Bruce of Maryland—who joined with the Republicans, decided the issue for the remainder of the senator minority, with seven Republican insurgents voting for adoption of the report.

The decision prompted Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, to drop his resolution proposing to authorize the president to employ special counsel to conduct contempt proceedings against the company in which Secretary Mellon is a stockholder.

Previously, Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, leader of the fight in behalf of the report, had abandoned his plan to have the senate investigate the company on its own account through special counsel. He said several senators were of the opinion that no senate inquiry was necessary in view of the investigation made by the federal trade commission which had filed complaint that the concern had violated decrees designed to prevent a monopoly in the aluminum industry.

Warm exchanges which preceded the vote involved Senator Walsh, Senator Reed, Republican, Tennessee, and Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire. The Montana senator had charged Mr. Reed with being a representative in the senate of Secretary Mellon, or of the Aluminum Co. This Senator Reed denied, adding that he would "take no insult from the Senator from Montana."

AIMED AT MELLON
Senator Moses declared the whole inquiry was aimed at Mr. Mellon and back of him the president and the administration. He warned Senator Walsh that in 1924, when he was in the senate, he had charged Mr. Reed with being a representative in the senate of Secretary Mellon, or of the Aluminum Co. This Senator Reed denied, adding that he would "take no insult from the Senator from Montana."

The fight of administration leaders against the investigation was based on the contention that the senate was without constitutional authority to make the inquiry to learn if a law had been violated and that congressional inquiries were limited in scope and must be conducted with a view to legislative enactment bearing on the subject.

S Senator Walsh explained that the proposed investigation was to determine the necessity for pressing legislation urged by Senator Robinson for the employment of special counsel.

OPEN BREAK FEATURES STOCK MARKET CLOSING
New York.—(AP)—A wide open break in a number of specialties which apparently had been bid up to extravagant heights by pool manipulations provided a sensational ending for Saturday's stock market. American Brake Shoe and Foundry dropped 35 points to 125; Foundation Company 29 to 174; General Electric 12 to 180 and United States Steel 30 to 180. The rapidly melting values of these specialties naturally caused liquidations of other stocks by nervous investors, giving closing quotations a heavy tone, but such popular rails and individuals as United States Steel common, American Can, Baldwin, Hudson, Studebaker, Texas Company, Atchafalpa, B & O Chesapeake and Ohio and New York Central showed not gains ranging from fractions to two points.

FRENCH SENATE VOTES GOVERNMENT CONFIDENCE
Paris.—(AP)—The French senate Saturday gave the Briand government a vote of confidence, 238 to 31, on the government's taxes program. Finance Minister Doumer made a confident issue of the tax on payments provision contained in the governments financial rehabilitation measure.

LENTEN MEETINGS IN FACTORIES TO START NEXT WEEK

Ministers Will Be in Charge of Religious Meetings in Appleton Mills

Lenten shop meetings, sponsored by the religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A., will be started next week in Appleton mills and factories. It was decided at a meeting of the committee Friday evening at the association building. Ministers of the various Protestant churches will conduct the shop gatherings at the noon hour. Meetings will be held at the Appleton Wire Works, Valley Iron Works, Northern Boiler and Structural Iron Works, Tuttle Press Co., Appleton Woolen Mills, Appleton Superior Knitting Co., and the Wisconsin Wire Works. A few more factories probably will be added to the list next week. A schedule for the meetings will be arranged with in the next few days.

The committee decided that Monday evening was the best time for the weekly meetings of the newly organized "Y. S." Bible classes. The first class will be held Monday, March 8, and meetings will be held in March and April.

During Lent the class will study the life, work and mission of Christ, and after Easter the discussions will be on how to meet life's questions. The six questions to be discussed are: How Do We Should Choose? What Makes a Person a Success? Who is a Hypocrite? How Much Does Loyalty Ask? How Can we Face Life Without Worry? The books chosen as texts are "How Jesus Met Life's Questions" by Harrison Elliot, and Moffett's Translation of New Testament Gospels.

It was decided not to arrange any Sunday forum meetings for the present, as there are too many such events scheduled for Sunday during the Lenten season. Chief among these are the 43rd Sunday program, March 7, and the Easter festival on Easter Sunday.

The committee members instructed their secretary, George F. Werner, to send a message of condolence to the family of the late Dr. W. J. Sandborn, who died a week ago. Dr. Sandborn was an active member of the religious work committee, and at one time was chairman of the body.

NEW SALES RECORD FOR DODGE BROTHERS

January Sales 67.1% Above Last Year

The month just closed was the biggest January in the history of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and Graham Brothers, according to official figures just given out at the offices in Detroit. Actual retail deliveries of 14,942 cars and trucks were made during January 26. This was an increase over the same period of January, 1925, the greatest previous January for Dodge Brothers, of 6018 cars, or a gain of 67.4%. The gain over January, 1923, the banner year prior to 1925 for the automotive industry, was even greater.

New orders for the month reached an even higher figure 19,218 units.

The biggest January week in Dodge Brothers' history was that ending the 26th, when deliveries of motor vehicles reached 4,576, an increase of more than 82% over the same week of a year ago.

The delivery of 4,188 cars for the week ending January 16 was a gain of 101% over the corresponding week of the previous year.

These cumulative advances are attributed by Dodge Brothers executives to the radical reductions in prices on all types of Dodge Brothers which were made public January 7, at the same time that marked improvements were made in all types.

The figures announced by Dodge Brothers, Inc., represent actual deliveries of cars, exclusive of immediate factory shipments of cars for storage to supply anticipated spring demand.

"Although Dodge Brothers, Inc., and Graham Brothers production is rising daily," said a factory sales executive, commenting on the January record, "these delivery records, made in January, usually an off month, show clearly that public recognition of the exceptional values represented by the recent improvements and the new low prices will soon result in complete wiping out of the small winter stocks which dealers have been able to accumulate in anticipation of the heavy demand usually experienced by all manufacturers in the early spring.

The demand that American car buyers are now making on the automotive industry is indicated by the fact that Dodge Brothers retail sales are running ahead of deliveries although the production schedule was close to 1,100 cars a day all during January, provided by a $10,000,000 expansion program, Dodge Brothers expect to increase production to 1,500 cars daily before the end of February.

Factory shipments of cars and trucks totalled 22,135 during January as compared with 15,685 during January, 1925, an increase of 41 per cent. Of the total factory shipments, 19,529 cars this January and 12,929 cars a year ago were for distribution in the United States. The largest previous months' shipments in the company's history were 26,930 cars in the height of the season last April.

No Red Tape To Enter Miss Venus Contest

A photograph, accurate measurements of your body as indicated by the picture of Miss Fay Lamphier, American Venus, your telephone number, and your signature will enter you in the Appleton Venus contest being conducted by the Appleton Post-Crescent and Fischer's Appleton theatre. All entrants must be in by March 5 in order that the judges may select the winning beauty for her coronation at the theatre while Miss Lamphier's picture, "The American Venus," will be shown in Appleton.

Three Appleton women will act as judges, and contestants will be asked to meet them on Friday night, March 5, for the final decision. This appearance before the judges will be conducted privately, and the public appearance at the theatre of the winners will be in street clothes.

There is no expense or trouble connected with this contest, and the prizes are of considerable value. Each girl is asked to sign an agreement that she will be willing to enter the Appleton City American Venus contest held next summer provided the Appleton Post-Crescent and Fischer's Appleton theatre wish to send her.

Applications should be sent to the Contest Editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

HOUDINI NEARLY LOSES $10,000

Congressman Quotes Unseen
Telegram and Nearly Wins
Magician's Wager

Washington—A. house, committee got deeply mired in a discussion of spiritualism Friday when it undertook to consider a bill for regulating clairvoyants in the District of Columbia. Houdini, the magician, and a former Appleton man, told the committee that persons claiming supernatural powers were nothing but fakers. His statement led Mrs. Jane B. Coates, head of the Spiritualistic Church of America in Washington, to declare he had reduced her church, and was interfering with religious freedom. Houdini then offered $10,000 to anyone who could tell him what was in a telegram he tossed upon the table.

Representative Reid, Republican, Illinois, without blinking an eye, snapped out:

"Why, it says, 'I can't be there today.'"

"That's a guess," Houdini responded. "You are no clairvoyant."

It turned out that the Illinois representative's quotation of the telegram was about correct, but Houdini insisted it was all an accident. Then after another vigorous protest by Mrs. Coates the committee adjourned.

ASK POLICE TO WATCH FOR PAROLE BREAKER

The police department has received notice to watch for William McCloskey alias Roy McCarthy of Waukegan, who violated his parole from the state prison at Joliet on Jan. 12. McCloskey was sentenced to two years at the prison on Jan. 12. McCloskey was sentenced to two years at the prison for a felony in Cook county. He is described as 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall, and weighing 150 pounds. He is medium build and has dark blue eyes.

Information as to his whereabouts should be sent to Oscar Lee, warden at Joliet. A reward of $25 is offered for information leading to his arrest.

WILL DECORATE GUARDS FOR SHARP SHOOTING

Marksmanship insignia will be given to 20 members of the Appleton National Guard troop at a special ceremony at Armory G Monday night, and special trophies will be awarded to several guardsmen for proficiency in marksmanship.

The insignia will be awarded for proficiency in small arms firing during the target season of 1925. The public is invited to attend the ceremony, according to Captain E. F. Grundeman.

ESCAPED INMATES GO BACK TO ASYLUM

Thomas O'Hanlon of Appleton and a man named Lamphier who escaped from the Northern Hospital for the Insane at Winnebago about 2 o'clock Friday morning, evidently thought they had chosen the wrong sort of weather in which to wander around the countryside. The men returned to their lodgings Friday night

NEW TENDENCY IN DENY RHODE IS CAR BUYING HITS OLD CAR VALUES

Revision of Automobile Assessments Necessary Next Year, Rule Says

A revision in assessment of certain types of automobiles will be made necessary in the coming season, according to A. C. Rule, who will finish his last year as city assessor in April.

The revision will chiefly affect second hand cars and open cars that are more than three years old. No assessor can be guided entirely by standard rules of depreciation, Mr. Rule says; it is the market value that determines the flexibility of assessments. The new assessor who will take office on May 1 will realize that there has been marked decrease in the market value of second hand cars.

With the tendency of the motor vehicle buying public to select closed car models, the open cars are not finding so ready a sale as formerly, and this will necessitate a decrease in the assessment of this type of cars, especially if the cars are more than three years old.

Last year witnessed the introduction of quite a number of new models embodying changes from the older types. It is the owner of the old model car that learns shortly what effect the new model has had on his car. This will have to be taken into consideration in the next assessment, in addition to the annual depreciation.

What the city will lose in the decrease in assessments will be more or less regained in the assessment and taxation of new cars purchased last year. Mr. Rule is engaged in checking over the automobile license lists issued by the secretary of state. This work is not yet completed, as there are about 600,000 licenses to peruse and more than 3,000 Appleton licenses to record.

It is expected that between 300 and 400 automobiles will be added to the assessment lists. This should bring the total of assessed automobiles to about 3,300. Last year the number of assessed cars was approximately 2,400, but this was somewhat short of the actual number of licensed cars. Cars valued at less than $25 are not assessed at all. The city has its quota of automobile "wrecks" just like any other city.

Since the last assessment there has been an increasingly large number of vacant homes. Estimates of this number vary among real estate agents, but Mr. Rule personally has seen at least 35 or 40 vacant homes in the last few months.

EFFICIENT ALCOHOL MOTOR FUEL FOUND

New York—Studies made following a demand during the war for more and better fuel supply have resulted in the discovery of a mixture of gasoline and anhydrous alcohol, said to be far more efficient than the modern fuel.

Announcement of this discovery is made by Dr. Milton C. Whitaker, head of the United States Industrial Alcohol Company, through the American Chemical Society.

Industrial, or denatured, alcohol is being used up mostly by the industries and can't be produced in sufficient quantities for motor use, says Dr. Whitaker. Research in this country resulted in a continuous process of distillation by yielding anhydrous alcohol of almost 100 per cent grade, in large volume and at low cost.

This kind of alcohol, it was found, mixes readily with gasoline in any proportion, and raises the efficiency of the fuel to a high degree.

At present, however, the mixture would cost more than the gasoline alone, and while this condition exists, says Dr. Whitaker, there is no need for the mixture in auto engines. But an economic balance may come in the future when the price of gasoline will be high enough, to make the mixture of the high enough, and that of alcohol both profitable.

Good Proportions In the Diet.

The problem of serving well-balanced meals often causes the conscientious housewife a good deal of worry. Adequacy, wholesomeness, attractiveness, and cost must all be considered.

The booklet "Good Proportions in the Diet," prepared by the State Relation Service of the Department of Agriculture, covers thoroughly every detail of food selection, tells what kinds of food are needed, gives the proportions and amounts of food required, and suggests a number of menus for well-balanced meals.

Every woman who is responsible for the meals of a household should have a copy of this booklet. Send for yours today. Fill out and mail the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent, Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the booklet GOOD PROPORTIONS IN THE DIET.

DENY RHODE IS TO LEAVE POST

Rumor of Appointment as Auxiliary Bishop to Messenger Is Disbelieved

Rumors started in Green Bay and Milwaukee to the effect that Bishop Paul P. Rhode of Green Bay has been selected by Pope Pius as auxiliary bishop to Archbishop S. C. Messmer are incorrect, according to the belief of Milwaukee priests.

It is believed by some that Archbishop Messmer's choice was not in the direction of Green Bay and that his sentiments in the premises would have weight with the college of cardinals and the pope. Close friends of the archbishop intimate that he favors a Milwaukee prelate and these friends believe that the latter will be chosen.

It has been known for a considerable time that Archbishop Messmer has been seeking an assistant to relieve him of much detail work and thereby retain his strength for the more important duties of the large archdiocese. When he was in Rome last summer it is understood that he expressed a desire to the pope for an assistant and that the request was granted. Milwaukee, it is stated, is one of the largest archdioceses in the United States. Archbishop Messmer, who is 77 years old, attends to all the work.

THE NEW SIX-CYLINDER HUPMOBILE

Study the Sixes—Then Back to Hupmobile

You'll know why the public is clamoring for more and more of these Hupmobile Sixes the moment you press down the starting button.

If ever there was a six that sprang into action like a live thing, it is this new Hupmobile Six—whose sales success is crowding the generous capacity of these great new plants.

Here is real six engineering born of 17 years' eminence in engine building—a virile, vigorous power plant whose performance is the very incarnation of liveliness and flexibility.

There's a zip and a zest to the get-away that makes ordinary engine-action crude by comparison—an instantaneous readiness of power for every need which renders the day-long drive a delight, no matter what the road or traffic conditions.

Here is Hupmobile experience crystallized and climaxed—all the old sturdy soundness of chassis with a new quality of brilliance which has taken the public by storm.

Study all the sixes if you care to go to that length of inquiry—brilliant superiority of performance will irresistibly draw you back to the Hupmobile.

Nearly ten thousand of the new sixes delivered now, and four buyers waiting for every one that Hupmobile can build.

Not just a Hupmobile harvest of sales in a generous market—not just the old high Hupmobile standing—vogue, for good sound reasons which anyone can recognize in a half hour's ride.

Here's a six you must reckon with if performance means a thing to you—a six that is bound to win you if you care one iota for the very utmost, and at the same time the most economical, in six motoring.

The New HUPMOBILE SIX

NEW SERIES HUPMOBILE EIGHT—There is not an eight power plant in existence more soundly engineered; not a performance program which can surpass it.

THE PASSING OF THE KLAN

The New York Times has published a survey of the Ku Klux Klan. It states that the information it publishes has come from all states where the Klan has been powerful and has been gathered by competent and careful observers. The evidence shows that everywhere it is undergoing a rapid decline. According to the facts secured by The Times, the recession has not been due so much to a perception of the wrong principle on which the order was founded, but rather to internal quarrels, disputes over finances and "accumulated disappointments in the field of politics." While one might hope that the fall of the Klan were due to a recognition of the unsound basis of its establishment, it may nevertheless be true that the troubles it has encountered are due to these inherent defects.

Perhaps the most startling decline is in Indiana, where it attained its greatest strength, numbering at one time approximately 400,000 members. Its present membership is only 50,000 according to a sworn statement in court by one of its financial officers. The Klan in Indiana was almost entirely a political organization and it has succeeded in controlling elections there. It is doubtful whether it will be able to do so again. However, The Times says it is well understood in Washington that both of the United States senators from Indiana cast their vote against American adherence to the world court largely because of fear of what the Klan might do to them when they came up for re-election. If this is true, their fears must have gotten the better of their judgment, for it would seem to be impossible for the Klan to do any candidate for office serious injury as things now stand. Probably one of the factors in the disintegration of the Klan in Indiana is the fact that its former grand dragon is serving a life sentence for complicity in the atrocious murder of a young girl.

The passing of the Klan was inevitable. No organization resting on its principles, which were in derogation of constitutional liberties and guarantees and in conflict with our settled institutions, could long thrive. Many well-meaning persons joined the Klan without a true knowledge of its character and purposes. They looked upon it as an instrument to reform certain social and political conditions which obviously needed reform, but they overlooked the fact that the methods employed were more objectionable and more dangerous than the evils to be cured. It was a mistaken conception from the beginning and while for a brief period it assumed serious proportions, every thinking American knew it could not last and that its breaking up was only a question of time. It has had a history similar to comparable movements of the kind, none of which survived. The survey presented by The Times brings to public attention the pleasing intelligence that the Klan's complete collapse at an early date is foreshadowed.

THE CHICAGO WATER STEAL

Michigan, New York and Indiana, through their attorneys-general, have filed with the United States supreme court briefs in support of the suit of Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota and Pennsylvania to stop the Chicago water steal. All contend, among other things, that the Great lakes and connecting waterways constitute a great national highway, which neither the Chicago Sanitary district, nor any other agency, has power to impair by appropriating or abstracting water and diverting it into another watershed. If this is not sound doctrine, then the waterways of this country are to be appropriated by the political or financially strong at the expense of the weak. It would subject the Great lakes to the exploitation of power users, navigation interests and others with conflicting interests. It would permit water to be abstracted from the lakes to fill channels of artificial construction in other parts of the country, and to increase depths of streams which could not from their own watersheds maintain navigation. Such a principle is abhorrent to the American sense of justice, and is destructive of inherent rights in the gifts and resources of nature.

We do not believe there is any authority in or out of the constitution which would permit the harmful draining of the Great lakes to create a waterway like that proposed from Chicago to the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, or for the carrying away of Chicago sewage. We do not believe congress has the power to permit what would clearly be the theft of an inalienable possession enjoyed by the states surrounding the Great lakes, as well as by contiguous states whose commercial and economic welfare is inseparably bound up with lake navigation. If this proposition is correct then the war department has no authority to issue a permanent permit for the diversion of water, and an undue exercise of authority can be restrained by the courts.

Finally, there is an international phase of the question which neither the courts nor congress can ignore, and that is Canada's proprietorship in the lakes. We have no right to deprive Canada of her use and ownership of lake water. It is a joint trust which both nations are mutually pledged to respect. Publication of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Canada indicates that a comprehensive settlement of Great lakes questions, including navigation, hydroelectric power and construction of the St. Lawrence seaway, is about to be made. It will take into account the present diversion of water by the city of Chicago and the restrictions that are to be placed on future diversion. It will provide for the conservation of lake levels, including an authoritative survey of climatic influences and the feasibility of compensating works.

Action of this kind is of urgent importance. The St. Lawrence seaway project ought to be authorized without further delay. Its cost is estimated at $275,000,000 and when apportioned between the two countries becomes a comparatively small sum to be spent for so great an undertaking.

Finally, we ought to put a stop to the Chicago water steal as well as to the fallacious demand of that city, supported by some misguided states in the southwest, that water be appropriated from the Great lakes to put into existence an interior waterway project of chimerical value and of only trivial importance in comparison with the Great lakes and the proposed St. Lawrence seaway.

SUMTHIN' MISSIN'

Aw, shucks, I ain't so crazy 'bout my father's new machine. There's such a thing as havin' things too fine. He went and bought the bunch of us a classy limousine. The best that he could get—but not for mine.
Ya know how people feel about a thing, that's spunkin' new. They're allus afraid of cars and cars and such. And every time I'm in it pop! watch each thing I do. That's why I can't enjuss about it much.
The seats'r all upholstered with a cloth of silver gray, an' all the wood and metal's shiny bright. But that don't mean a thing to me. I just found out today they wouldn't let my dog in. That ain't right.
Aw, what's the fun of ridin' when I leave my pup behind? I hate to see him whine an' fume an' fuss. I don't see why my father didn't wait and try to find a plain old common second-hand bus.

A NIGHTMARE INDEED

The mother of a promising family—two boys and a child—had a horrible nightmare in which she came home from a calling tour to find the house full of smoke and the younger of the boys unconscious. She managed to get the boy out of the house but she could find no one to help, and the boy seemed to gasp only feebly at long intervals. The distracted mother didn't know what to do.
The other day Dr. Herman N. Dundesen, Chicago's health commissioner, published and distributed an edition of "Chicago's Health" devoted to the menace of carbon monoxide, and in suggesting what to do in case of carbon monoxide poisoning, Dr. Dundesen advised "performing artificial respiration by lifting the arms above the head and down again pressing gently on the chest as they are lowered." Now that might have been a satisfactory "performance" back in the nineteenth century, but it is shocking to find a health authority teaching any such obsolete and ineffectual practice today.
Dr. Dundesen suggests, and perhaps preventing some better qualified person, such as a Boy Scout, from giving the victim of carbon monoxide or other asphyxiation or drowning, or electric shock, a chance for life.

I wonder whether Dr. Dundesen has ever attempted to "perform artificial respiration" in the manner he suggests. I have, and I keep myself in fair physical condition, and I doubt whether I could carry on that arm pumping maneuver more than two or three minutes uninterruptedly before I should have to give up from sheer exhaustion. Try it some time and see for yourself what a tremendous strain it is, especially if you are hampered by clothing. Then what chance are we, laymen, of trying the Schafer or prone pressure method, which is the best known method, and see how easily a mere child can carry it on for an hour uninterruptedly if necessary.

What, you don't know just how to apply this method of artificial respiration? Well, that's a shame; your education has been sadly neglected. Get some Boy Scout, Girl Scout, fireman, policeman, medical student, beach life guard, first aid expert, miner or doctor to show you, and do it now, so there will be no nightmare.

How To Rest By Breathing

One can learn to apply the prone pressure method of artificial respiration only by actually practicing it upon a volunteer subject under the direction of an instructor. But here is Schafer's own description of the method:

"It consists in laying the subject in the prone position, preferably on the ground, with a thick folded garment underneath the chest and epigastrium. The operator puts himself athwart or at the side of the subject, facing his head, and places his hands on each side over the lower part of the back (lowest ribs). He then slowly throws the weight of his body forward to bear upon his own arms, and thus presses upon the thorax of the subject, and forces air out of the lungs. This being effected, he gradually releases the pressure by bringing his own body up again to a more erect position, but without moving the hands."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Social Anxieties

..... It is so embarrassing to ask doctors you meet so fully these questions, (Mrs. P. H. W.)
Answer—That's right, it is, and for the doctors, too. But it is not at all embarrassing, or there is no good reason why it should be embarrassing, to ask doctors whatever questions you have in mind when you consult them professionally.

Poor Dad

My father imagines he saves money by buying slack instead of real coal. The stove almost refuses to burn it, and the air in the house is full of coal dirt and smoke from the stoves, and I am afraid my lungs may become weakened from breathing the bad air. I am under treatment for arthritis and a weakened condition. (P. L.)

Answer—The dust dad raises in his commendable efforts to meet his season's tax installments will not hurt your lungs. No matter what fuel is used, if there is proper fire connection with the chimney and no leak in the stove pipe or flue and no interference with the draft, no injurious effect need worry you.

DISCIPLINING STUDENTS

Editor of the Post-Crescent—I submit the following, subject to your approval, for publication in The Post-Crescent:

IS LAWRENCE COLLEGE A REFORMATORY?

In reply to the open letter published in last night's paper entitled "IS LAWRENCE A CHRISTIAN COLLEGE?" may I ask that "business man" some questions? Is it the sole invariable requirement of a Christian College the fact that it gives every student a second chance on any matter of college discipline? Should not every student caught cheating in an examination be given the same second chance? Should not every student be given a second chance to pass every course he attempts? Is he any less responsible for his poor preparation in his home town high school to meet Lawrence's requirements than for his moral up-bringing an dthen cheats or is immoral in conduct or "talks for a drink?" I wonder if this business man would like Lawrence to make it a practice to welcome as students any who had been expelled from other institutions for, say, passing bad checks on business houses elsewhere, or breaking into stores and naturally helping themselves to some merchandise? Should not Lawrence be Christian and give all such offenders a second chance?

And lastly, why is it that this business man is so particularly incensed at this specific case of un-Christian behavior of firing this student on a charge for which this very year others have been expelled? Why didn't he lift his voice in behalf of other poor first offenders? I wonder if this business man knew of the circumstances under which this case came to the attention of the discipline committee? A professor.

Q. What has been discovered in the survey of so-called "Californian Earth Movements?" W. T. D.

A. A comprehensive scheme of research is being carried out in California, with the object of investigating the alarming movements to which the earth's crust in that region is subject. The United States Coast survey and the hydrographic office have triangulated the land and contoured the ocean floor, and the geological survey, aided by the universities of California, are studying the geology in detail. Great faults are found along the California coast, for the Sierra Nevada rises to more than 14,000 feet on the east, while the ocean floor drops sharply to a depth of 12,000 feet on the west. The danger zones of structural instability are being carefully mapped so that in future definite predictions of the places where earthquakes may occur may be made from knowledge of the direction and magnitude of the creeping and tilting movements of the land.

Q. Are there more deaf mutes among men than among women? L. C.

A. A survey of 35,026 deaf mutes gave the following percentages: 19, 146 males, 15,860 females; 18,317 of these were white males, 15,110 white females; 16,827 males were native born, and 12,950 females. Negroes, 758 males, 701 females. Chinese,

Q. How are vowels formed? M. R.

A. There are numerous theories concerning the information of vowels. Dr. K. Heger writing in "Four Voices and You" says: "The theory most commonly accepted and most generally taught is that they are shaped in the mouth by various positions of the lips and/or tongue, which positions furnish so many forms or molds into which the stream of vibrated air is poured."

Q. Where is the most powerful light-house in the world? N. A. R.

A. The most powerful lighthouse in the world has been erected on Mont Pelric, on the plateau of Dijon in France, for the purpose of guiding aircraft proceeding from and to Paris, Switzerland, Italy, and Africa. The lamp consist of eight powerful electric arc lamps, with dioptric lenses, divided into two groups of four. The light from each four is converged into one beam, one beam facing one way and the other beam the other way, each beam having 1,000,000,000 candle power. The lantern measures eighteen feet across, and each lens is five feet in diameter. Lamps and lenses are mounted in two circular platforms, one above the other. The platforms are mounted on ball bearings on a circular pivot, about which they are rotated by an electric motor. On a clear night the light of the beams is visible for 200 miles.

Q. When was the chemical element fluorine discovered? W. L.

A. Fluorine was known or suggested as being an element as early as 1725 but was first actually isolated by Henri Moisson, June 25, 1886. It constitutes about 0.00 per cent of the lithosphere of the whole earth.

Q. What is the plural of the word quome, meaning the article used by a tailor to shape the shoulders of a coat? J. E. D.

A. The implements are crookes.

Q. Please tell something about the Amiana colony. E. C. L.

A. The Amiana colony is 25 miles west of Iowa City. There are seven villages: Amiana, East Amiana, Middle Amiana, High Amiana, West Amiana, South Amiana, and Homestead. The Society is governed by a president and a board of thirteen directors, and each village is controlled by seven or more elders appointed by the board of directors. The property includes 25,000 acres of land. The population is 1,720. There are no hotels in the Amiana colony.

Q. Is a torpedo fired from a submarine by powder or compressed air? T. R.

A. It is fired from a submarine by means of compressed air below the surface and by means of powder above the surface.

Q. How long will it take the sun to rise over the whole of Nebraska? A. E. L.

A. The naval observatory says the time between sunrise in the easternmost point of Nebraska and sunrise on the western boundary is about 34m. 50 s. at either equinox.

Q. Why do rattlesnakes rattle? B. E. R.

A. The vibrating of the snake's tail was a common characteristic of most snakes before the rattlesnake evolved from the common ancestral stock of pit vipers. The habit of vibrating the tip of the tail at a high rate of speed is believed to be an escape of nervous forces brought about by immediate conditions.

Japanese, or other colored persons 63 males and 49 females.

Q. Is it true that there are no snakes in Ireland? F. F. S.

A. A snake that was discovered in Dublin is on exhibition at the National Museum of that city. It is a small specimen, less than 2 feet long and of a harmless variety.

Q. Are the world's most popular authors A. C.

A. According to a list prepared by Irving Harlow Hart for the Publishers' Weekly, the best sellers for the last twenty-four years were: Winston Churchill; Harold Bell Wright; Booth Tarkington; George Barr McCutcheon; Mary Roberts Rinehart; Zane Grey; Gene Stratton Porter; Eleanor H. Porter; William J. Locke; E. Phillips Oppenheim.

Q. Are flat omelets the same as fallen omelets? C. M.

A. Flat omelets are those made of the yolk and whites of eggs beaten together, not separately. For a fluffy omelet the yolks and whites are separated and beaten well. To the yolks, the milk and seasoning are added, lastly the fluffy whites are added and carefully blended. Fluffy omelets sometimes fail.

Lawyer Is To Talk To P-T Club

Attorney H. E. Sweet of Fond du Lac will speak on Americanization as applied to the schools at the monthly meeting of the First Ward Parent Teachers association Monday evening at the school. Mr. Sweet was scheduled to give this talk to the association two months ago, but found at the last minute that he would be unable to reach the city. He is a past grand chancellor of the Wisconsin Knights of Pythias, and a former district attorney of Fond du Lac.

A musical program will include vocal solos by Mrs. A. H. Miller, and vocal and instrumental numbers by pupils of the sixth grade. A social will follow the program.

DOUBLES FOR DEAD STAR

BARBARA LA MARR, LEFT, AND THE GIRL WHO IS CARRYING ON FOR HER—LOLITA LEE—AT THE RIGHT. NOTE THE RESEMBLANCE BETWEEN THE TWO FACES.

BY RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL.

Hollywood—Lolita Lee, who looks more like Barbara La Marr than the late screen vampire resembled herself, is going to carry on for the girl who was "too beautiful to live."

The Spanish-French mixture who hails from San Francisco is the girl who made possible the finishing of Barbara's last picture, released to the public on the day the star died.

Near the close of her final cinema posture, Barbara was stricken with a nervous collapse. She fainted on the studio set and was carried away. She was never brought back. No one knew at that time she was playing her farewell exit.

With an unfinished production on their hands, studio officials faced the loss of many thousands of dollars unless the picture was completed. Then Lolita Lee, who for a year had been vainly striving to carve a niche for herself in this picture hotpot, was discovered and engaged to masquerade as Miss La Marr.

During the time Lolita was portraying Barbara's unfinished role in the land of make-believe, the cinema

Cleopatra was in a mountain rest home fighting against the demands of reality.

Though the lives of these two girls were thus strangely entwined, they never met. Barbara died without knowing the girl who made her last wish come true—the wish that her picture be finished.

So true a prototype of the dead actress is Miss Lee, the keenest studio critics are unable to differentiate between her "cleopatra" and those of Miss La Marr.

Wills and Investments

Many wills are made which contain provisions as to investments which the passage of time proves to have been unwise. Likewise the omission of instructions as to investments often results in disadvantage to beneficiaries.

If your estate should include securities, the directions which your will contains as to their disposition must be carefully written. Your will should be drawn by your lawyer and he can advise you in these matters.

We shall be glad to give you the benefit of our experience as to the investment phases of your will.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

G. W. PATTON
Kaukauna Representative
Telephone 298-JDETERMINED TEAM SEEK BUYERS FOR TACKLES SHAWANO
CAGE CHAMPIONSSmith Squad Well Drilled for Last Appearance on Its Home Floor

Kaukauna—Having resolved to defeat Shawano High school at any cost, Coach Smith will lead a well organized, determined basketball team into the game with the northeners in the auditorium Saturday night. Still smarting from their defeat of a week ago by the Shawano team the Kawmen will strive for revenge. It will be a bitter battle, with the Orangemen accorded less than an equal chance of winning because of the record of the northeners. This is the first game Kaukauna has played on its own floor for over a month and nothing but a win will satisfy the local fans.

Shawano will bring the same husky lineup that fought its way to second place in the state tournament last year. Every man on the team is near six feet tall and with its overhead style of passing, the smaller Electric City squad will have to be right on edge all the time to win. At their last meeting Shawano was able to work the ball through the hitherto "stone wall" defense of the locals and it is this which the locals have been striving to stop in their practices all week in the auditorium. "Bill" has worked his men hard every night and the boys have shown better form than they have at any other time this season.

Gonyo was watched so close in the game last Saturday that he was unable to get away with any of his usual brilliant playing and if the northeners expect to watch him just as close Saturday night they will find that they have made a big mistake for there will be four other men on the Electric City squad.

The locals undoubtedly will start Capt. Gonyo at his old position of guard with Farwell at the other guard. Boyd will play center and Macrorie and MacFadden will hold down the forward positions. Welch, Goldin and Ver Beten will be held in reserve.

The advance ticket sale has been the greatest for this game of any home game this year. All the reserved seats were sold out at an early hour Friday and the record crowd is anticipated. The high school contest will be on hand to pep up the contest and the two cheer leaders will be there with a brand new bagful of stunts and the ability to lead the cheering of the students so that it will prove helpful to the team. This is the Kawmen's last home appearance this season and next week they close schedule in another good game at Oshkosh.

GIRL WINS PRIZE IN SHORT STORY CONTEST

Kaukauna—Eunice Sullivan won first prize in the short story contest conducted in Kaukauna high school the last month. The name of her story was "A Leap Year Dilemma." Miss Sullivan was awarded $1. Bertha Kunze's story, "Gratitude," was chosen as the second best story and "Past Man," by Homer Metz, was awarded third prize.

The stories contained not less than 500 words nor more than 125. Over a hundred stories were submitted which were cut down to about twenty-five after the first reading by the judges. Thursday night the final reading was held and was announced in general assembly Friday morning.

"A Leap Year Dilemma" will be published in the high school annual. The judges were Miss Ethel Handran, Miss Ruth Nemachek, Miss Marcelle Thompson and Olin Dryer as representatives of the faculty and George Look, Edna Sager and Dorothy Fiedler from the student body.

ELECTRIC CITIES BEAT
HILGENBERG PIN TEAM

Kaukauna—The Electric City bowling squad and the Kaukauna All-Stars rolled off a postponed game in the Fox River Valley league on the Ellingberg alleys Friday night, the former winning two out of three games. A Peterson of the Electric City squad rolled the highest single game of the evening when he crashed 227 pins. E. Evans of the Kaukauna Alleys rolled 597 for the highest total in three games. Score:

Electric City—C. Hilgenberg 185, 176, 175, 536; W. Johnson 228, 177, 160, 560; P. Smith 193, 179, 222, 592; A. Peterson 227, 176, 183, 586; H. Minkche 179, 168, 182, 529; Totals 1067, 870, 922, 2197.

SNOW KEEPS VETERANS
FROM COUNCIL MEETING

Kaukauna—The county council of the American Legion was entertained by the local post of the American Legion at a 6:30 banquet Thursday evening in the dining room of the Congress hotel. About thirty members were present. The county council consists of delegates chosen from each post in the county. Because of the bad weather the only representatives of other posts were from Kimberly and Appleton.

SCHOOL ANNUAL

Want Two Hundred More Persons to Subscribe for Senior Publication

Kaukauna—A campaign is being carried on in Kaukauna high school to secure two hundred new subscribers to the high school annual, the student year book, by Monday. Providing this number of subscriptions is secured, actual printing of the book will begin at once. This is the first time in years that an attempt has been made to publish a year book and the students in charge of publication are doing their utmost to make it successful. In other years a paper was printed monthly, but this was unsatisfactory because most of the students wanted to keep some kind of a printed remembrance of their days at school and it was difficult to preserve unbound volumes. The expense of publishing a volume of this sort is large and although a large amount of money was taken in from "The Russian Honey Moon," the three act comedy presented by members of the senior class for the benefit of the annual, it was not enough to print it. The committee reports many subscriptions coming in from the alumni. Every member of the senior class has ordered an annual, while only 13 per cent of the freshmen, 24 per cent of the sophomores and 28 per cent of the juniors have subscribed.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The K. V. S. club held a backwards party Wednesday evening in the vocational school. Everything was done backwards. When the guests arrived they said "goodbye" to each other, ate their lunch, then played games, after which they greeted each other and went home. They also wore their clothes backwards. About fifteen girls attended the party.

A regular meeting of the Elks was held Thursday evening in their club rooms on Second-st. A fish fry was the big feature of the evening. Plans were made for a St. Patrick day celebration.

Miss Eva Pearl Gebe entertained the U. R. club at her home Wednesday. The evening was spent in sewing.

POSTPONE MEETING
BECAUSE OF DEEP SNOW

Kaukauna—Inclement weather conditions caused the postponement Thursday night of the Parent-Teachers association meeting which was to be held at the high school. It was decided to postpone the meeting because the committee in charge felt there would be such a small attendance. Mrs. James O'Connell, city nurse, was to have given her report on the health clinics held in the schools. The next meeting of the association will be held the fourth Thursday in March.

KAUKAUNA MAN FINED FOR BEING DISORDERLY

Kaukauna—Charles Krueger, Kaukauna, was arrested Thursday night on a charge of being disorderly. He was taken into Judge Zekind's court Friday morning and paid a fine of $2 and costs amounting to $2.25.

MOLOCH STOCKHOLDERS

FIVE GUESTS LODGED
AT HOTEL DE LUECK

New London—The season's record of "knights of the road" was made on Monday evening of this week, when five wanderers stopped at Chief Lueck's hotel and asked for board and room "on the city." All requests were granted, and the next morning, after a hearty breakfast, the men were again on their way.

NEW LONDON INTERESTED IN
Plan for Shiocton to Green
Bay Cut-off Canal

New London—This city and vicinity is vitally interested in the project of the Rivers and Harbors bill, which will come up in congress within the near future. The river and harbor board at Washington has requested the house of representatives to include in the bill $17,000 to be used in the making a survey of the Fox and Wolf River valleys with respect to existing conditions along those rivers and which annually cause thousands of dollars worth of damage in floods.

New London and vicinity is especially interested as the survey, if made, will determine whether the cut-off canal from the Wolf river, near Shiocton, to Green Bay, which citizens in this community have been advocating, would be the best possible means of relief.

Allan H. Tripp, president of the Association for Relief from High Water, of Oshkosh, is a letter to a local member of the association recently, expressing confidence that the appropriation for the survey will be granted and that the Duck Creek canal will ultimately go through.

SOCIAL WHIRL IN NEW LONDON

New London—The Woman's Relief corps held its regular meeting at the Odd Fellow hall Friday afternoon. Following the business session a patriotic program was rendered and consisted of a Tribute to Washington, by Mrs. Bert Schaller; a musical recitation, Our Nation's Colors by Edna Schuch, Iris Dean and Eloise Gaffney and two solos by Esther La Marche. After the program lunch was served by the February social group composed of Mrs. Rose Manske, chairman, Mrs. Frances Rogers, Mrs. Margaret Edminster, Mrs. Mae Sweedey, Mrs. Anna Schoenrock, Mrs. Rose Schoenrock and Mrs. Josephine Dexter. An entertainment group was appointed for the next meeting, March 12.

Mrs. Augusta Bartlett entertained the Old Settlers' club at her home Thursday afternoon.

The Eastern Star will hold its regular business meeting at the Masonic temple Monday evening. A social hour will follow the business session.

Looking as fresh as a Killarney rose

To be sure, it came up at the Bridge Club; but for that matter hadn't it been spoken of behind teacups for nearly a year—ever since the Lees had settled in the old Farnum estate on Westwood Road? How could any mortal woman, Cynthia Lee included, come home from shopping, looking as fresh as though she were walking in from a swim?

Cynthia's house guest confided the answer. "She has an easy time shopping, because she knows just where she's going before she sets out.

"First, she reads the advertisements, cutting out and arranging the ones that show the things she wants. Then she swings around the circle and comes home. . . . That's all there is to it."

If you want to come home from shopping looking as fresh as Cynthia Lee, read the advertisements daily.

Study the advertisements. They are so much better than buying at random

BALANCED FOOD RATIONS SERVED AT Y CAFETERIA

Experienced Dietitian Arranges Menus Served in Popular Eating House

Half the struggle of life is a struggle for food. Therefore it is not out of place to say that one should select his food with fully as much care as he would his clothes, a hat, or a pair of shoes. Foods that lead to health and prosperity are served in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria. The food problem has been closely studied at the local cafeteria, and a menu arranged for each day of the week to assure the best possible food combinations for the promotion of health and efficiency. There is a list of the specialties for each day of the week, and their prices:

Monday evening, porterhouse steaks 30 cents; Tuesday noon, spare ribs and sauerkraut, 20 cents; Tuesday evening, Spanish steak, 20 cents; Wednesday noon, baked ham, 25 cents; Wednesday evening, liver and bacon, 25 cents; Thursday noon, chicken pie, 30 cents; Thursday evening, chop suey, 25 cents; Friday noon, fresh fish, 30 cents; Friday evening, waffles, 20 cents; cod fish balls 10 cents; Saturday noon, chili con carne, 15 cents.

The following inexpensive foods, rich in vitamins and minerals are served daily: whole wheat bread and muffins, selected unpolished rice, fruit and vegetable salads, buttermilk direct from a tuberculosis tested herd, honey direct from the farm, a choice of three or more vegetables.

A noted scientist once said, "Tell me what you eat and I'll tell you what you are." The manager of the local cafeteria is a trained dietitian, and is constantly trying to arrange menus, and provide food which will be of the greatest benefit to her patrons. Evidence of this are the delicious whole wheat raisin bread, and whole wheat muffins which are selected by cafeteria customers in preference to white bread.

The supervisor of the Arcade cafeteria one of the largest in Chicago has said, "The general trend of the public mind is rapidly being turned to better food combinations. Doctors everywhere are demanding their patients to diet and the person who must eat in a public restaurant is just about doomed to invalidism unless he can find some place where foods may be selected, dietetically correct."

Here are a few comments from people who have had experience with Y. M. C. A. meals:

New visitor—"I think I'll have to come here again. Everything looks so appetizing; frequent visitor—you certainly have a wonderful cook down here. Everything is fine. (Guest to coast tourist)—"I go all over the country and I'm enjoying my meals here better than anywhere else. Everything is fine."

ASTRONOMER RETIRES AFTER LONG SERVICE

Manila, P. I.—(AP)—Failing eyesight has caused the retirement from active service of Father Jose Alzate, who for 20 years has been director of the Philippine Weather Bureau.

In addition to being an astronomer of note, Father Alzate invented a number of instruments used in connection with weather forecasting, notably the baroventometer, employed in the determination of direction, distance and movement of tropical hurricanes. The Philippine service can praiseworthy years gone by through his dependable forecasting of typhoons in the Philippine archipelago. He was a native of Spain and was educated in Spain, France and the United States. The new director is Father Miguel Sola, S. J., a native of Barcelona, educated in Spain and the United States. After graduation from Harvard, he was an observatory service at Lowell, Ark., and Mt. Hamilton, Calif., observatories.

Don'T Put All Your Eggs In One Basket, Babson Says

(In view of the large amount of money which is annually lost through fraudulent and unwise investment schemes, Mr. Babson has been asked to prepare a series of Family Investment Talks. This first talk of the series deals with Reserves and the fundamental investments which make all other investments worth while. The talks following this one deal with specific forms of investments. His exclusive statement follows.)

Babson Park, Fla.—"For the past few weeks I have been in Florida. Now Florida is all right. It is fundamentally sound; its population and production will steadily increase for many years to come; and real values will continue to increase correspondingly. Those who go to Florida with the right spirit should not only make money, but what is far more important, should live longer and more happily. This latter thought leads me to say something this week on Reserves and the Most Important Investment."

FORMS OF INVESTMENT
"First, it should be realized that an investment simply means a reserve, whether you are a speculator, business man, or merely a lender of money. If we as individuals would talk more of our reserves instead of our stocks, bonds, and other investments, we would fare much better. Bankers and many corporations use this term 'reserve' properly; but it is seldom properly used by the average man. Second, it must be admitted by all sensible people that every man should form reasonable reserves. This is a basic lesson among animals and one of the first lessons taught in history. Note the seven year famine in Egypt when Joseph saved the nation by his foresight in providing reserves of grain and other foodstuffs. It is said by some psychologists that the fundamental difference between a civilized and uncivilized race is their respective different attitudes toward storing up reserves.

"The point, however, which I wish to make today is this—a financial reserve is only one form of reserve and sure is not the most important. It is true that a man should have a reserve of money, but it is far more important that he should have a reserve of faith, health and contentment. By the latter, I do not mean self-satisfaction, but rather thankfulness. We business men are doing right in storing up financial reserves; but we gain nothing thereby if we correspondingly deplete our physical and spiritual reserves. We merely are 'robbing Peter to pay Paul' and both lose! This is what many are doing in Florida. Here is a state which offers peace, health and happiness to all who go there, and yet those great gifts are being trampled on continually in the quest for land, money and subdivisions. Really the situation is most pitiful and yet the same relative conditions probably exist in every other state of the Union."

INVESTMENTS IMPORTANT
"We hear much in conservative banking circles about the need of 'diversifying our investments.' Such advice means that one should not invest too much in any one company, and, moreover, should buy some railroad bonds, some public utility bonds, some industrial bonds, and some real estate bonds. Diversification also means to many business men that they should put only a portion of their money in any one-third into bonds, dividing the other two-thirds between real estate and stocks. This custom has developed since the German collapse when bondholders lost everything while many stockholders made fortunes. Diversification should further mean that a man should not devote all his time to storing up a financial reserve; but should also give attention to the storing up of spiritual, physical, and intellectual reserves.

"The philosophers for many thousands of years have insisted that 'life consists not in abundance of things,' but rather in the proper balancing of the spiritual, the physical, the intellectual and the material. 'Things' are only one fourth of life at the very best, and yet the average business man acts as though 'things' made up all of life. The greatest reserve a man can have are the '3P's'—Faith, Family, and Friends. The investor who has those three assets is truly rich, but whose entire assets consist of the '4th P'—namely, Funds, or a safe deposit box full of papers called stocks, bonds and deeds, is really a pauper. Moreover, I am speaking not as a preacher, but as a child-blessed statistician. This is sound investment advice to men and women. Hence I say that those who think investments include only financial reserves are terribly mistaken."

MAN'S EARNING CAPACITY
"The building up of financial reserves is largely dependent upon an individual's earning capacity. Most everyone can earn a living, but there are fewer who can successfully build a dependable financial reserve. This is where the 'intangible' reserves come in. The intangible reserve of faith and integrity, health and intellect are not just for use in later life for a 'rainy day' as they say in New England. They have use of an immediate and practical nature. Psychologists have definitely shown that our health is affected by our worries and fears—a condition produced by a lack of spiritual reserves of faith and integrity. We all know how dependent our earning capacity is on our health and intellect. Thus I want to make it clear that these intangible reserves—these spiritual, physical, and intellectual reserves—together with our material reserves, are all bound up together, and dependent one on the other.

"True success and real wealth depends upon having a normal amount of all these reserves. The man who thinks of wealth as meaning only a financial reserve is absolutely wrong. The youth who wants true success must build up spiritual and physical reserves as well as intellectual and financial reserves. It is just as important to attend church and visit a gym as to attend college and build up a bank account. Parents who are striving to accumulate money for their children should especially remember this. It is good to be able to 'have our cake and eat it too'—to have money; but it is far more important that they have faith and integrity, health and a good education."

CONCLUSION
"Now for a secret in conclusion: Several months ago I was very ill for a few days—came pretty near passing out. Let me tell you that my stocks, bonds and land did not count for much at that time. The one rope which I could grasp was the little faith which I had. I grant it was a very slender rope and pretty stiff from lack of use, but the faith which was taught me, and which I have used in the little country church, was my one big possession. It was then that I resolved to write on these intangible reserves, however much I might be criticised for preaching—moreover, I have written this from my heart."

"One word more: Many complain today because it is so hard to interest people—especially young people—in many of the deeper things of life which seem so fundamental to us older ones. Is not the trouble largely with us, that we have been storing up material things and have not shown the relative values of spiritual, physical, intellectual and financial reserves? Therefore let us all diversify our own investments. Let us talk and think more of the truly important possessions of life and store up for ourselves other reserves than financial. Please pardon this preaching, but I feel that these other reserves should be given special thought at present with general business in a period of prosperity which now stands by the Babsonchart, at 13 per cent above normal!"

APPROACH OF SPRING BOOMS LUMBER BUSINESS

Business in lumber continues to expand with the approach of spring, the principal softwood mills during the week ended Feb. 13 having orders for eight per cent more than the cut. Shipments just equalled the production, so that there has been a considerable increase in the files of unfilled orders. Though there have been checks on consumption owing to recent bad weather in the South as well as in the North and East, the trade outlook, according to the American Lumberman, Chicago, is excellent.

Southern pine is in good demand, and mill bookings are above the seasonal normal. Recently, however, bad weather in the South has taken the edge off business temporarily, though the volume of inquiry indicates early placement of a large amount of orders during the week ended Feb. 12 we about thirteen and a half percent above production. Yard demand continues good and more orders are coming from railroads and oil fields.

Production of Douglas fir during the week ended Feb. 14 outran new business, which suffered on account of severe weather in rail trade territory. The starting up of Atlantic coast business had been postponed by the severe storms in the East, but prospects in that market are bright. California buyers have been hesitant about placing business because they feared a slump in prices, but their hand-to-mouth buying has reduced their stocks to a low point and it is expected that they will soon be more strongly in the market. The export market is taking a larger quantity. Production has expanded somewhat in preparation for spring, but the mills are holding their operating schedules and stocks in close line with market requirements. That their stocks are low is indicated by the falling off in shipments to 17 per cent below production during the week.

Southern hardwood orders during the week ended Feb. 12 were twenty-seven per cent above actual production, and thirteen per cent above normal production, which was eleven per cent below normal. Orders are far ahead of shipments, so that unfilled order files are expanding and the market gains in strength. Northern hardwood business fell greatly below production during the week ended Feb. 13, but bookings for the year to date have taken a large part of the cut. The lower grades are in active request and have advanced, but the peak demand for trim, millwork and flooring will not be reached until weather improves.

ORANGES TO ARGENTINE
Tokyo—Negotiations have been concluded between Japanese orange export merchants and Argentine business men through the Argentine legation here for the shipment of Japanese oranges to that country. A cargo of 8990 cases has been shipped.

STUDENTS MAKE GOOD SUBJECTS FOR PICTURES

Froelich's Home-like Studio Makes Patrons Feel at Ease When They Pose

"Students of Lawrence college and Appleton high school are among the most gracious and pleasant people we do business for," declared Joseph Froelich, Appleton photographer, who has his studio at 127 E. College-ave. Mr. Froelich said: "It was a great pleasure to take pictures for high school and college students here because they are such a congenial and happy group of young people and because they are truly appreciative."

The volume of students business at the Froelich studio has been growing steadily from year to year, especially the individual portrait work. The Lawrence Ariel contains individual pictures of all members of the junior and senior classes, as well as scores of other individual portraits of students engaged in campus activities. The number of Froelich made portraits has shown a substantial gain with each year's Ariel.

In the Appleton high school Clarion annual individual pictures of members of the senior class as well as those of the many students engaged in school activities have a prominent part, and here too the work of the Froelich studio is represented more and more each year. Many Kaukauna high school students also patronize the local studio, according to Mr. Froelich.

One of the principal reasons for this success in the student photography line is that the young people feel at home and at ease when they come to the studio, according to Mr. Froelich. "We want to be on the friendliest terms with all the students, and if anyone comes up here feeling a bit ill at ease, we do our best to make him feel at home," Mr. Froelich said. "When a person is feeling friendly and comfortable in his surroundings a much better picture can be made of him. It is only when one feels at home that he will possess a natural and unaffected attitude, and such an attitude is essential if a good likeness is to be made."

STEEL MILLS STICK TO FIXED PRICES

Cleveland—The Iron Trade Review says: "With the approach of the second quarter, price policies in iron and steel are receiving greater attention. A disposition of the larger producers to hold the situation firmly and in fact to reaffirm price schedules from which there has been deviation recently, is becoming plain."

"In sheets, the larger mills have re-established prices for second quarter on the same basis as for first quarter with the exception of reducing the 43 per cent reduction in automobile sheets. Strip steel, likewise, has been reaffirmed for second quarter. The more influential interests seem to be stiffening their position in plates, shapes and bars."

"Automotive interests are taking more tonnage as their operations expand. The lower priced car builders, with one exception, are making a quick comeback in production."

"The labor situation affecting tonnage men in the sheet mills is forcing recognition. Recent advances of 4 to 8 per cent for men on hourly rates by the leading producer now being followed by some of the independents, has left the position of tonnage workers, who are dependent on current sales prices, out of line."

"The spring building program is getting under way and inquiries are coming out more freely. Awards this week, 23,771 tons were the second largest of the year and for January, 179,950 tons, were slightly ahead of the same month last year."

"New car inquiry is notable with 2,500 cars for the Southern, along with 113 locomotives, 2,000 additional for the Union Pacific, 1,000 additional for the Missouri Pacific, 500 each for the Santa Fe and Burlington and 350 for the Texas and Fort Worth. New orders exceed 4,000, including 3,400 for the Seaboard Air-line and 5,000 for the Northwestern Refrigerator line."

"Iron Trade Review composite of 14 leading iron and steel products is on the same basis this week as last, or $38.90. This is the low point of the year to date."

DOC COOK ASSOCIATE EDITS PRISON PAPER

Leavenworth, Kans.—(AP)—S. E. J. Cox, who was convicted with Dr. Frederick Cook, "discoverer" of the North Pole, now is editor of The New Era, the federal prison paper.

Cook is an attendant in the prison hospital. He is said to have welcomed the opportunity to "brush up" on his profession. He served as surgeon for several Arctic expeditions.

"Coalition" Blows Up As Spokesman Talks Too Much

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington — The impossible happened.

Calvin Coolidge has talked too much. At any rate, the "presidential spokesman" has.

And, as Congressman Oliver suggested in the House of Representatives the other day, it's rumored in Washington that Cal's a ventriloquist and the "presidential spokesman" is the dummy he does his talking through.

Anyway, the "presidential spokesman" recently complimented the Democrats in Congress for uniting with the Republicans to pass "non-partisan" bills.

What did the "presidential spokesman" mean by this?

A word of explanation's necessary. It's politics, and tiresome, but won't take long.

Congress consists of regular Republicans, regular Democrats and so-called radicals, who are rebel Republicans, mostly.

In the 68th Congress, as in this, the 69th, the regular Republicans had a safe majority in the House of Representatives, so leave the House of Representatives out of consideration.

But in the Senate the Democrats and radicals together are stronger than the regular Republicans—that is to say, when they vote unitedly.

In the last Congress that's what they did, tying up everything.

However, a regular Republican and a regular Democrat have far more in common than either one has with a radical.

So, between sessions, the regular Republicans buttonholed the regular Democrats and said, "Let's combine against these darn radicals and you shall have some of the gravy."

Thus was formed what the radicals called the "coalition," though the regulars, on both sides, hated the expression.

Every time the regular Republicans wanted to do anything of any consequence, they proclaimed, "This is non-partisan," which enabled the regular Democrats to vote for it.

It was an arrangement which hog-tied the radicals completely. No wonder the regular Republicans were grateful for the regular Democrats' cooperation.

Hence that expression of appreciation from the "presidential spokesman."

It was a mistake, however.

The regular, Democratic senators' home folks hadn't been paying much attention to what their senators were doing, but when a Republican "presidential spokesman" complimented them they sat up and took notice.

"What in heck?" cried the home folks, in a flood of telegrams.

"We're being led around by the ear by a Republican administration," explained Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, in a public statement.

Whereupon the "coalition" blew up, with a deafening report, in the midst of the Senate debate on the tax bill. As for the tax bill, "Go to it! Rip it up! Ruin it!" yelled Senator Smoot, its sponsor, in an access of fury, as he saw what the combined Democrats and radicals were doing to it.

From which it may be gathered that it was a badly damaged tax bill.

From all indications the rest of this Congress will be one prolonged Donnybrook.

The "coalition" has gone flooey.

150 WILSON GIRLS
IN ATHLETIC TILT

Pupils Show Skill in Games and Contests in Junior School Gymnasium

One-hundred and fifty girls representing the three grades of the Wilson Junior high school, took part in an athletic tournament at the school gymnasium Friday afternoon. The eighth grade girls probably scored the greatest number of points as they were winners in three events, the kickball and dodgeball games, and relay race but the total scores of the three classes have not been compiled. The pinball game was won by the seventh graders, with the ninth grade placing second and eighth grade third.

In the kickball contest the ninth grade girls were second and the seventh grade placed third, while at dodgeball the seventh grade team took second and the ninth grade third. The first three places in the standing broad jump were won by ninth grade girls. Agnes Schubert won the event with a jump of six feet and one inch. Jeanette Johnston placed second and Kathleen Frieders third.

Monica Van Ryzin placed first in the high jump, clearing the bar at four feet, eight inches. Anita Schnasse won second with a jump of four feet, seven inches. Third, fourth and fifth places were won by Ella Honzman, Angeline Dehour and Charlotte Tracey.

AGAIN PUT OFF PURCHASE OF TROUBLE FINDER

Radio Club Wants to Continue Study of Outfit to Detect Interference

Menasha—Purchase of a trouble detector by the Menasha Radio club was put over until a later session at its weekly meeting Friday night at the city hall. This was done in order to give it a more thorough test. A committee composed of Edward Fahlbach, Walter E. Held and E. F. Saecker was appointed to have charge of the detector for the next two weeks. Any person not necessarily a member of the club, who is having radio trouble or knows of the location of any interference as reported to notify members of the committee or the secretary, George DeWolf, and it will be investigated at once.

Frank Lantzer, president, who was absent at the meeting a week ago because of illness, presided Friday night. The attendance was not as large as at previous meetings because of Lenten services in the churches. Incomplete reports on the radio census were submitted. The task of securing an accurate list of all the radios in the city is much greater than was at first contemplated. However, the census will be completed within a very short time.

The club was advised by the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company that more time will be given by the company to seek causes for any interferences as soon as it is convenient to do so, possibly Sunday. The work has to be done at certain times, whenever its electricians are available.

It was decided to engage no more speakers for the meetings until after Lent so as not to interfere with church services. Several additional members were turned in.

BOARD CHAIRMAN IS HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Menasha—George A. Tschetter, chairman of Waukegan board, who has been taking treatment for rheumatism at Waukegan for the last week, has recovered sufficiently to preside at the spring session of the board which opens at Oshkosh Monday. He will go to Oshkosh direct from Waukegan.

The local supervisors who will attend the meeting are S. L. Spengler, A. Vossom, Earl Schrage and John Wise. The most important business to come up at the meeting will be the report of the special committee on the building of a new courthouse.

MENASHA FISHERMEN ARE BACK FROM SUNNY SOUTH

Menasha—Walter Bipping and Gerald Lisch have returned from Tennessee and Louisiana, where they have been fishing the greater part of the winter. They came home to get ready for their spring shipment of carp to the eastern market and will return south again at the close of the fishing season in local waters about May 1. August Bipping, who accompanied them south, will remain there during the spring months.

LAUNCH NEW U. S. BARGE NEXT WEEK

Menasha Boiler Works Completes First of Three Boats for Government

Menasha—Preparations are under way for the launching of the first of the three steel government barges built by the Menasha Boiler Works, six heavy barges 12 by 12 inches and 36 feet long were brought over from the government docks at Appleton Friday by August Pomatienka and will be used in the shipyard. They were placed in position Friday.

The barge was built on a heavy staging on the bank of the government canal opposite the boiler plant and will be launched into the canal. As soon as the barge is launched work will be commenced on the third barge which will occupy the staging used by the first. The second barge is nearly completed and will be launched a few days later. Work on the three barges has been in progress all winter.

MASONIC LODGE MOVES INTO ITS SPLENDID TEMPLE

First Meeting Will Be Held in New Edifice Next Monday Evening

Menasha—Furniture and equipment of Kane lodge of Masons, was moved Saturday from the Equitable Fraternity union hall where the meetings have been held, to the new $125,000 Masonic Temple on E. Wisconsin-ave. The first meeting will be held in the building on Monday evening.

Build of white pressed brick with cut stone trimmings, the new temple is one of the finest in this part of the state. Entrance to the building is through a large double door on the E. Wisconsin-ave side. At the end of a cozy vestibule is a hall, the east end of which is set aside for the Eastern Star. This room will be furnished by the women. At the west end of the hall is the check room and grand staircase to the second floor. Across the entire south side of the building is the large dining room which will seat several hundred and which will be used as a dance hall. Connected with the dining room on the west end are the serving rooms. The walls are gray with gray oak woodwork. The dining room has a heavily timbered ceiling. Offices and toilet rooms are located on the first floor.

A cozy club or waiting room adjoins the lodge rooms on the second floor. The waiting room is finished in paneled walls of a cream shade with a yellow oak stone fireplace at the south end. Bookcases and shelves of gray oak are built into the walls.

The main lounge room occupies the entire east end of the building. The room is 70 by 40 feet in size. The high walls extending up through a story and a half are finished in a block panel design of delicate shades of gray, cream, lavender and pink. The ceiling has a blue-gray background covered with gold stars. The border is in a gold and enamel design embodying Masonic emblems. Three rows of elevated theater seats of gray and blue leather design, take up the north, south and west ends of the room and harmonize with the heavy velvet Brussels carpet which covers the entire floor and platforms.

The lighting equipment is of bronze with opal shades casting a golden glow over the entire room.

The second floor contains closets, lavatories and ante-rooms.

A large room on the third floor in the west end of the building is being finished for a DeMolay room.

No date has been set for the formal opening of the new building but plans will be started in that direction soon.

NEENAH THEATRE LEASE MAY GO TO BIG MOVIE FIRM

Neenah Club Grants Permission to Theatre Manager to Transfer Lease

Neenah—A special meeting was called Wednesday evening of the directors of the Neenah club for the purpose of granting John Herziger permission to open negotiations for the transfer of his lease of the Neenah theatre, which is owned by the club, to one of the biggest moving picture enterprises in the country.

Mr. Herziger explained the situation to the directors and some of the founders of the club who were asked to be present at the meeting.

The directors agreed unanimously to give consent and instructed Joseph Wesshamp, the club president, to accompany Mr. Herziger to Milwaukee where negotiations were initiated.

A new long term lease on the Neenah theatre will be given the new company by the Neenah club if present negotiations mature.

In connection with the lease on the Neenah theatre, Mr. Herziger will lease his duty theatre on N. Commercial-st. and the Orpheum theatre in Menasha to the same concern.

SET NEW RECORD FOR DAY'S TAX COLLECTION

Neenah—More taxes were collected Friday than any day during the entire tax paying period. Up to closing time Friday about $80,000 was paid in. One of the paper mill's taxes swelled the amount considerably. March 1 is the last day on which taxes can be paid without the 2 per cent premium.

Benjamin Eusterman, Milwaukee, a member of the editorial staff of the Retail Publisher's Inc. of the city, spent Thursday in Appleton.

OPEN 2-DAY MEETING OF YOUTHS' SOCIETIES

Neenah—A dinner at 6:30 Saturday evening at the Baptist church will open a two day joint meeting of the young peoples' society of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches. A deputation team composed of Leon Meyer, Donald Newton, Lorretta O'Dell and Lyle Gure, of the University of Wisconsin, will take charge of the meetings. Services will be held Sunday morning and continue until 5 o'clock in the afternoon when a picnic supper will be served. This will be followed by the regular young peoples' society meeting and the regular evening service.

BOYS BRIGADE TO STUDY PARLIAMENTARY METHODS

Neenah—Parliamentary practice will be discussed at a meeting of the officers of the Boys Brigade with Attorney C. H. Vette Monday night following the Brigade drill under the leadership of Leo Schubert and Walter Olson. Group meetings of the boys will be held next week.

The program of the Boys Brigade for this year, according to S. F. Shattuck, has been planned on the basis of "friendship between the man and the boy," and 90 boys are brought in contact with 10 men who direct the Brigade.

NEENAH MAN HEADS POULTRY ASSOCIATION

Neenah—Lewis Trexall, instructor of agriculture in Neenah high school, was elected president of the Winnebago Poultry and Pet Stock association a meeting held in Menasha city hall. Other officers elected were Edvard Larson, Neenah, vice president; J. Lorenz, Menasha secretary and treasurer. Directors elected were Harvey Peterson, Louis Resch, John Klim, John Nagel and Stanley Ulanowski.

Secretary Lorenz presented the annual report showing the association to be in good standing financially and that an effort will be put forth to instruct the state Barred Rock association to hold its annual meeting in the twin cities.

GOOD FOR THE HEAD

Indianapolis, Ind.—Motor Policemen Schley and Long found 50 empty hair tonic bottles when they investigated a report from Mrs. Tallon, Moriarty that her husband, Frank, has been drunk for a week. She told police her husband's fondness for the scalp treatment had grown almost into a habit.

INVITE DE MOLAY TO USE MASONIC TEMPLE

Neenah—Winnebago Chapter DeMolay, at the invitation of Kane lodge will initiate a large class of candidates in the new Masonic Temple on March 19. The boys will be guests of the Masons on that evening and will be given full use of the new building.

ELECT MONITORS

Neenah—John Scheller of the Freshman class; Helen Klausner of the Sophomores; Howard Toyman, Junior, and George Henebery, Senior, were elected Friday afternoon as monitors in charge of the assembly room at high school during the 2:45 afternoon period under the student government plan. These officers, with John Darrow, in charge of the library, will serve for three weeks, when new officers will be elected.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, jilted BRUCE REYNOLDS, her fiancé, because she wants to see life. She gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph. Adventure begins at a roadhouse where a prominent man kills himself and Barbara connects LYDIA STACY, wealthy widow, with the case by means of a red scarf.

Mrs. Stacy likes Bruce. When he refuses her advances she tells ANDREW McDERMOTT, editor of the Telegraph, that Bruce's really firm, Vale Acres, is crooked. Then Manners, Bruce's partner, absconds.

Bruce weds VIOLETTA CRANBY, factory girl, who was advised by Barbara's "lovelorn" column. Barbara plunges into work to try to forget. At a women's club convention she meets Manners and has him arrested. He implicates Bruce.

Barbara confronts Mrs. Stacy with the red scarf in an effort to get her to testify for Bruce. Mrs. Stacy refuses but at the last moment of the trial takes the stand and clears Bruce.

McDermott's daughter, Fanny, who shares Barbara's apartment, weds JEROME BALL, man about town. Barbara is lonely.

A child is born to Violetta and Bruce and that gives her another lonely pang.

Barbara accepts a job offered in a letter from Harvey Christopher, dramatic critic for the Footlights Magazine in New York. After getting a little apartment in New York she calls up BOB JEFFRIES, newspaper man who was her friend as police reporter on the Telegraph, and invites him over for dinner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVIII

On Saturday, Barbara reached home early in the afternoon. This was a new pleasure, after the long Saturday afternoons at the Telegraph office, with football scores to be taken by telephone, or a pile of lovelorn mail to be handled.

A maid who worked about the building was sweeping the living room when Barbara entered. The windows were open and dust covers had been thrown over the upholstered furniture.

Barbara went out to the kitchen and inspected the tiny refrigerator. Then she made a list of groceries and went out to market. At the little French bakery she bought rolls and pastries, at the butcher shop fat chicken for roasting and green vegetables at the grocer's.

"You'll have more than you can carry, miss," said a good-natured clerk, as he tied up her parcels. "Can't we send the things over for you?"

Barbara shook her head. "No, thank you. I'd rather take them."

She made several trips, laying the packages on the kitchen table between journeys.

"Land's sakes, miss, you must be going to have a party!" remarked the maid, staring at the increasing pile.

"Not exactly," Barbara answered. "Just dinner for three, but I want it to be very nice. It's my first entertaining in my new apartment."

She was making for the door again when she turned back. "Do you know where I can get some flowers for the table?" she asked the maid. "I didn't notice any flower shops when I was out."

The woman straightened her back from the task of dusting a low bookshelf. "There is one, just around the corner a few steps. That's one thing about this neighborhood. You can buy anything you take a notion for."

The window of the florist shop was full of roses, in pinks and white and lavender. Barbara bought a box of them and made her way back to the apartment. She paused to glance at the gray-stone front of the building, with its New York air of compactness and sophistication.

She was humming a little tune when she entered the living room for the last time and passed through to drop the last bundle on top of the pile.

"I'll unpack those for you, miss," said the maid, standing in the doorway.

"No, indeed. I wouldn't miss the fun for anything in the world," Barbara's eyes were shining over the plump chicken, the crisp lettuce. "This is going to be a perfect dinner."

"You do beat all," said the woman, her eyes wide. "You act as if you like messing around in the kitchen."

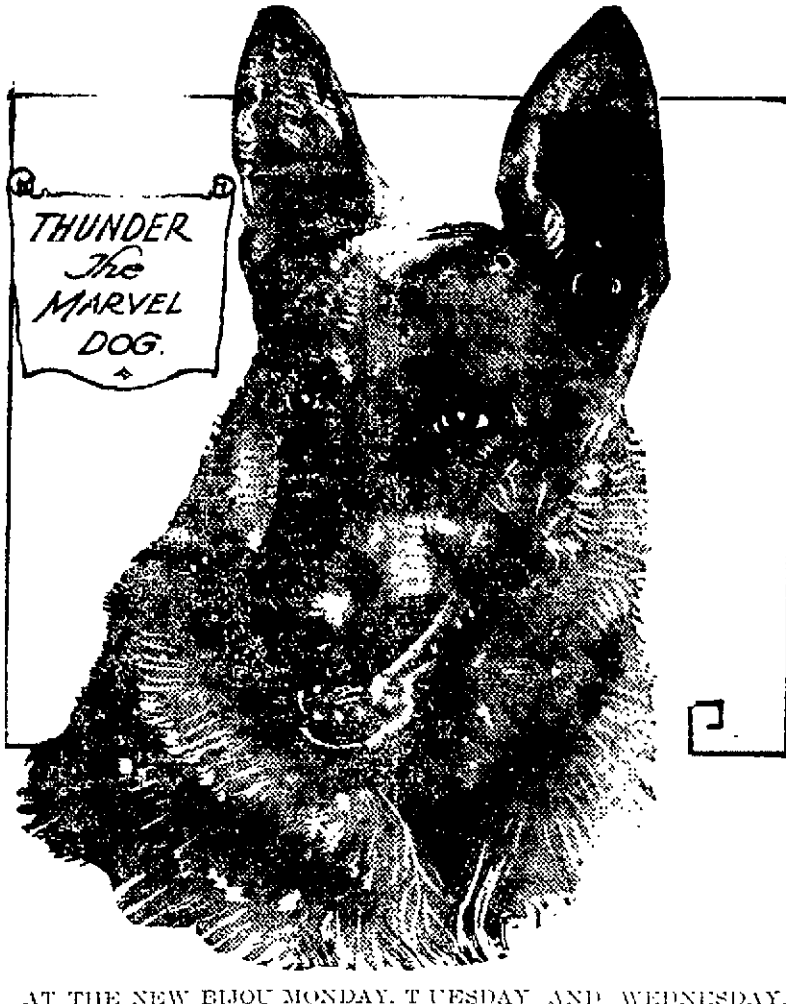

Barbara laughed. "Well, it's an awful admission. But I do like it, probably because I have so few chances to do it. Business women always like to step into the role of housewife once in a while. Besides, I have two nice men coming for dinner. And that adds interest, you know."

The maid grinned. "I'll say it does. When a woman really likes to cook, there's always a man behind it somewhere. But watch out you don't land him with your cooking and have to do it for him all the rest of your life. It ain't so romantic after the preacher makes him yours."

"Oh, there's nothing like that," laughed Barbara. "We're just good friends."

"Say, miss, I don't want to be fresh, but there's nothing to that. There ain't no such thing as being good friends for very long. You'll either fall for him or else you hate him. Don't tell me, I've been through the mill. And I've been cooking these fifteen years, without no romance to it neither. Look at those hands." She surveyed her burned and cracked fingers ruefully.

"But I've proved a woman can have a man friend," asserted Barbara. "This one has stood by me for a long long time. Neither of us is the marrying sort."

cupboard and set a candlestick at either end of the table.

"I love dinners by candlelight," she commented to the woman. "Can't make the room so homey, and besides, they make every woman look twice as pretty as she really is. And that is always important."

The maid grinned. "I'll tell the world."

As Barbara was putting the finishing touches on the table someone ran up the steps outside and rang the doorbell sharply.

"One of them telegraph boys," said the maid. "They always raise the dead. Hope it's no bad news from your folks."

"I haven't any folks," answered Barbara, on her way to the door.

The woman was right. A Western Union boy stood at the door, holding out a slip for Barbara to sign. She tore the envelope open hurriedly. The message was from McDermott: "Having hard time to fill your place. Sincerely hope you don't like your new boss and are good and homesick. If so, just wire me. We will meet. Footlights salary."

Barbara laughed. She took a pad from the waiting boy and wrote her answer. "Many thanks, but I am not homesick and I like my boss—well enough. Regards to the bunch."

"The idea of my leaving New York when I've just found it?" she said to the maid, without bothering to explain the remark.

She went back to the kitchen and the door and held out her hand to Bob.

But he grasped it only for a moment. He was drawing after him into the room a pretty girl whose red hair curled crisply at either side from beneath her tight little blue felt hat.

Announcing ~ Metal Cabinet Frigidaires at New Low Prices

THE new metal cabinet Frigidaires are here! They offer, at their new low prices, the greatest of values in electric refrigerators. We invite you to visit our display room, see these new Frigidaire models, and learn what a wonderful service Frigidaire can render to your home.

You will be delighted with their beauty. They are built of steel—beautifully finished in enduring white Duco with bright metal trim—lined with heavy, seamless one-piece porcelain-enameled steel.

And you can be sure, too, that they measure up to the best standards of Frigidaire construction. All of them are equipped with the Frigidaire mechanical units which are already rendering dependable and economical service to more than 100,000 users. All of them are insulated with solid corkboard.

Perhaps you will be especially interested in the Model M-5-2. It is built complete with metal cabinet, has ample food capacity for the average family, yet is small enough for apartment use. It can be moved as easily as an ordinary piece of furniture and its price is only $245, plus a small charge for freight and installation.

Or, you may want to see the Frigidaire frost coil which can be placed in your present ice-box, which is equivalent to four tons of ice a year, which never melts, and never requires any attention.

You will be interested, too, in the new arrangements of Frigidaire freezing trays, a choice of either deep or shallow trays for the freezing of large or small quantities of ices, sherbets, creams, and salads—for the provision of a constant and ample supply of ice cubes.

Be sure to visit our display room and see the new Frigidaires. You will find the model which will just fit the needs of your family—you will find its price surprisingly low—you will find that the GMAC payment plan makes it very easy to buy.

BUICK

On March 22, 1923, Buick celebrated the building of the millionth Buick. Approximately eighteen years were consumed in the accomplishment.

On December 16, 1925, Buick reached the million and a half mark. A million Buicks in eighteen years—the next half million in two years and nine months.

At the present time, public demand calls for more than 20,000 Buicks every month. This means the next half million in the hands of Buick owners, within two years.

These bare figures tell a graphic story of Buick's continuous advance in public regard. The great acceleration of demand, at the present time, speaks strongly of the increased value and desirability in the Better Buick.

Leadership belongs to Buick because a nation familiar with many motor cars has given it to Buick.

The American public wants "finer transportation at lower cost", and Buick provides it!

CARE OF THE SECRET
DRAWER—CONTINUED

WHAT HAPPENED AT THE DRAIN

"All aboard for the drain," shouted the Gingerbread Man, testing the whistle on the Hidy Go Land Express. "I'll walk," said the gobbler. "I'll go ahead and show you the drain."

"And we'll walk, too," said Sniff Whiskers to his policeman. "We may be able to see some footprints and pick up some evidence."

"I'd rather pick up a nice piece of cheese," said a large fat rat to his neighbor, but Sniff Whisker didn't hear.

Limber Long Legs helped Calamity Jane, the Tin Soldier assisted Miss Tootsie Doll, Teddy Bear gave Belinda his arm and poor, fat Mrs. Jiggs and Black Dinah had to have three people to help them.

As for Miss Crinoline, she chose to ride in the real car. "It gets there first," she explained, "and as its my party, I don't want to lose a minute. I do hope the Rag Doll has taken good care of my skirt and not let it get all drabbed in an old drain. What do you suppose anyone would want to go to a drain for? Ugh!"

"Front! Toot! Toot!" went the Gingerbread Man.

Poor Mister Havabook and the Twins got into the caboose and away they went over a very rough road, leaving Tin Can Town far behind. They passed Ash Can Ville and Rubbish Mountain and everyone looked at the scenery.

Nancy and Nick were interested, for as Nancy said—now she knew where things went to, that disappeared from ones house and never were seen again. Of course they came to Hidy Go Land. And it was not such an ugly place as one might suppose. For in the rubbish heap there were lovely china dishes, broken of course, but with beautiful things painted on. The dolls wanted to stop but the engineer said it was not a regular stop or not even a flag station, so on he went.

And after much bumping and tooting and creaking of brakes, they slowed down and the engineer called, "All out for the drain!"

There was the turkey gobbler waiting to receive them. Also Sniff Whiskers and his policeman.

"Step this way, please," said the gobbler to the travelers.

Every body tumbled out and followed the gobbler toward a large dark tunnel in a hill.

"We can't go in there!" remarked Miss Bobb. "It's all wet and water-fades my green hair."

"It wasn't your skirt that was lost," "Come on, men!"

"Hold on! Hold on!" said Sniff Whisker, looking at the ground through a piece of broken bottle. "I see footprints. They are rag-doll footprints. Take that down, men!"

So all the rat policemen wrote in their note-books, "Rag-doll footprints."

"Everybody stay out," said Sniff Whisker. "I and my men will go bravely into the drain and bring out the culprit. We're used to drains and we know the ins and outs. Ready, one, two, three, four—go!"

But just at that second there was a scream from the drain and out rushed the Rag Doll herself. "Oh, oh, oh! Save me!" she cried. "There's a ter-rifle monster after me!" Oh, there he is!"

Everybody expected to see, well, at least a dragon or something like that. But out came a nice, friendly, black water-bug, with eyes sticking out like blackberries.

"She's trying to get our sympathy," said the Crinoline Doll severely. "Where's my skirt? Where did you hide it?"

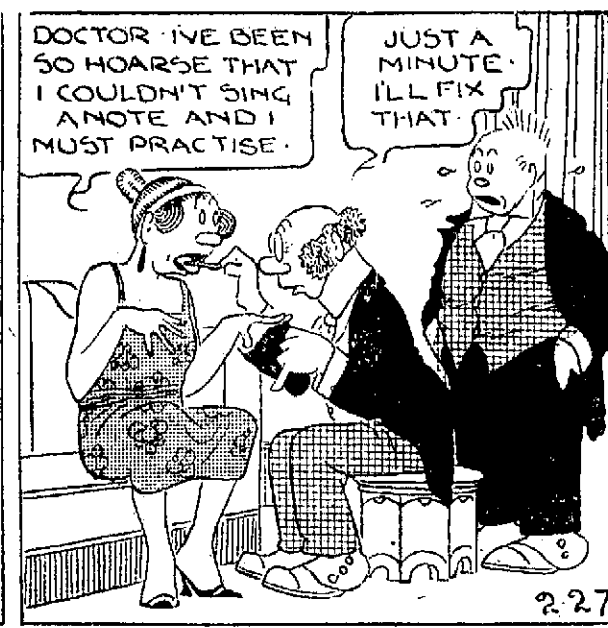

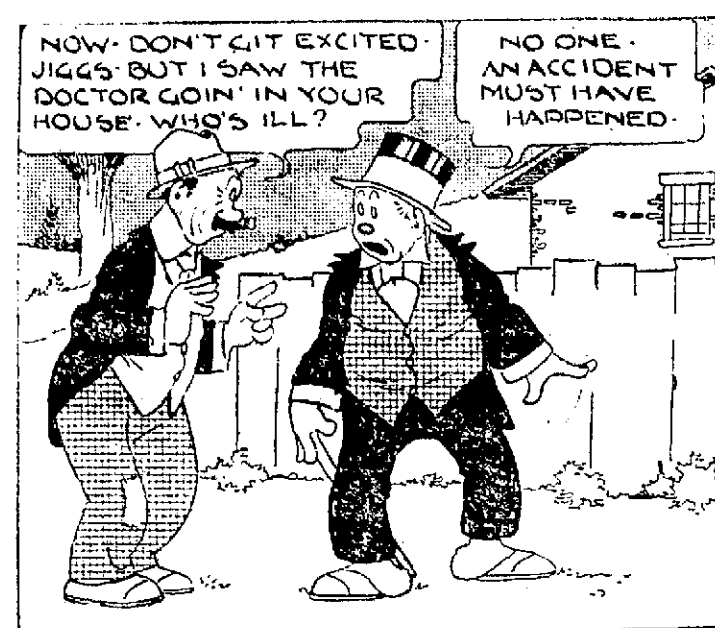

"Your skirt?" said the Rag Doll. "I didn't see it since I left it hanging on the wash-line."

The Crinoline Doll fainted again.

LAWRENCE CAGERS WIN -- HIGH SCHOOL LOSES

BLUES SLIP
ANCIENT FOE
28-13 DEFEATDennymen Surprise Redmen and Drop in Baskets from All Angles of Floor

LAWRENCE basketball five trod heavily over Ripon, its ancient foe, Friday night, avenging an early season defeat with an overwhelming 28-13 victory at the armory before the largest crowd of the season.

Cochman Denny's squad surprised the Redmen in the first half by resorting to long shots, caging five baskets in this period from near the center of the floor. Ripon trailed at half time 11 to 6.

With the Ripon players drawn away from the Lawrence basket as the second half opened as a result of the Blues' tactics in the early part of the game, Captain Denny and his cohorts changed their play, carrying the ball the length of the floor to their own hoop, and gamming three field goals with short shots. Just to prove that they had not lost their shooting eye, they added another pair of baskets from a distance.

The meeting was a typical Lawrence-Ripon affair. It was fast and furious all the way, as a consequence of which many fouls were called. Lawrence committed 12 personals and Ripon 15.

BLUES GUARD CLOSE
Using its customary defense to advantage, the Lawrentians held their opponents to four field goals, two each half. Jones, Ripon scoring ace, who gathered in nine baskets in the former meeting with the Dennymen, came through with only two such counters this time. Both were long shots. To this total he added two free throws.

Ashtman and Briesse had their eyes glued to the basket, it seemed, dropping the ball through the net from all angles and distances. The Blue center scored five times, from scrimmage and once from the foul line, while Briesse caged four ringers and a singleton.

Although the forepart of the game was close, it was evident that the Blues held the upper hand as they gradually crept ahead. Ashtman counted first from the free throw line but Lohr followed for Ripon with a field goal. Lawrence again crept into the lead on Ashtman's basket. Ripon responded with a gift toss, and the Dennymen then took a decisive lead on a ringer by Zussman and two by Briesse, and were never headed after that.

Jones then injected a little hope into the hearts of numerous Ripon fans by scoring once from the foul line and following with a basket shot almost two-thirds the length of the floor. Ashtman added another ringer for his team before the half ended.

RIPON DROPS BASKET

Courney opened the second half with a free throw. Jones did likewise for Ripon, and Courtney added two more gift shots and Zussman one. Ashtman next sent Lawrence rooters at ease with a pair of field goals. Hansen and Briesse added a single point for the Redmen, and Briesse sent his team way ahead with two baskets and a counter from the foul line. A basket by Hansen ended the scoring so far as Ripon was concerned. Heidenman scored two free shots and Ashtman a field goal for Lawrence before the game ended.

FRESHMEN LOSE

Cochman Martin's Vocational five defeated the Lawrence yearling cagers 11-11 in the preliminary game. The Vocational team broke an 11-1 tie in the last few minutes with a free throw and long shot and held the green clad youths scoreless for the rest of the game. The freshmen team had beaten the Martin squad earlier in the season.

Dreher was high scorer for the frosh with three field goals. Ungrove caged two. Munster and Koepsel led the Vocational cagers with two baskets each.

With only one loss in 15 games, the Evangelical squad tops the standing of the Inter-Church Bowling League, which completed its schedule this week. The Baptist five finished in second place, three games under the champions.

High single game of the season was rolled by H. J. Mundhenke of the Methodist team, who registered a 236 count. Other high scores were made by the following: L. C. Smith, Presbyterian, 224; W. Salberich, Evangelicals, 211 and 204; L. P. Bunde, Epworth League, 199.

Although the league was just organized this year, the season proved successful, and the organization of an inter-church athletic association is now under consideration. Tentative plans call for an all-year around program in which such sports as bowling, basketball, volleyball, playground ball, etc., would be promoted. All churches in Appleton are eligible for participation in inter-church activities.

EDDIE PLANK DEAD
Eddie Plank, famous southpaw of other days, is dead as the result of a paralytic stroke.

Plank, by his great work for the Philadelphia Athletics, gained a place in baseball's hall of fame as one of the greatest left-handers of all-time.

He was one of the first college ball players to make good without buying a bundle of nerves, and a series of

He came to the Athletics direct from Gettysburg College.

Connie Mack developed Babe Werdel as well as Eddie Plank. Connie once told that he regarded Plank the more valuable of the two great pitchers.

Eddie Plank was one of the smartest pitchers I ever called balls and strikes for.

GREAT SOUTHPAW
Plank, always a trail looking chap

and a bundle of nerves, was just the type to finally succumb to a stroke of paralysis.

No pitcher in the history of the game ever kept the batter or umpire as much on edge as Plank. He always insisted that was half his stock in trade as far as the batter was concerned.

Getting his signals from the catcher, just off the rubber, he would invariably shake his head three or four times, although often the first signal given was the style ball pitched.

The moment he stepped on the mound he went through a series of "count-getting" antics. The soil conditions never suited him. He would scratch around with his spikes like a wet hen. Then he would stoop over and smooth the ground he had torn up with his spikes.

After this he would hitch up his trousers several times, expectorate once or twice and then start to pitch.

It is easy to imagine the mental state of the batsman as Plank went through these mannerisms.

WAS A "GOAT GETTER"
I doubt if any pitcher was ever called more by the opposing batters than Plank. He merely smiled as they became riled.

It was always a comedy treat to watch the late Herman Shafer in a duel of wits with Plank. Herman would initiate every stunt that Plank would pull and was the only batter I ever saw able to overcome the influence of Plank's tactics.

When a runner reached first, Plank would throw to that base from three to a dozen times in an effort to catch him.

Plank had and only an ordinary move to first and seldom nipped a runner at that base. I doubt if that was his intention, for you can imagine how the batter would feel as Plank ignored him for the baserunner.

Great control for a southpaw, a most deceptive cross-fire and brains were his best assets. Few pitchers now use the cross-fire which was Plank's most effective ball.

Too bad Eddie Plank had to die so young. He was a square-shooter, a credit to the game, an inspiration to the collegian.

DENNY TO OFFICIATE AT MARINETTE CAGE MEET

A. C. Denny, physical director of Lawrence college, will be one of the officials at the Marinette district basketball tournament on March 11, 12 and 13. It was announced at Marinette Friday. C. H. Doehling of Ripon college will be the other official.

HARRY GREB

Harry Greb, former middleweight champion, relinquished his title to Tiger Flowers, famous colored gladiator, in their 15 round fight at Madison Square Garden, New York, Friday night. "Windmill Harry," as Greb is known in pugilistic circles, failed to show anywhere near his old time ability.

Flowers probably has suffered more knockouts than any other champion the world has known. He went into the test with Greb anything but favored because last winter Jack Delaney, the light heavyweight from Bridgeport, Conn., knocked him out twice.

Flowers is married and has one daughter. He formerly entered the ring at about 170 but by constant dieting has brought himself down to the middleweight limit.

Greb won the title from Johnny Wilson of Boston three years ago.

Badger Fish Face Real Test Against Minnesota

Madison—Faced with the problem of meeting one of the strongest teams in the Big Ten, Coach Joe Steinmeyer swimmers are preparing to face what appears to be an almost hopeless situation. In meeting the swimmers of the University of Minnesota, the Badgers are facing a real test.

The initial performance of the California giant made a favorable impression on Manager George Sisler, who first sent him to the rubber and later into the outfield.

JUDSON FLOPS HILL IN EMPRESS WINDUP

Milwaukee—Frank Judson, the Polish star, threw George Hill, the Wisconsin lumberjack, at the Wisconsin theater Thursday night in 21 minutes. The bout was scheduled as a finish affair, but Judson wrenched the big fellow's leg so severely that he was unable to come out for the second match.

In the other bout on the card Giuseppe Giberti, the Italian star, defeated Tony Hatches, the big Latin American. It was a hard-fought match and the Italian lived up to all his advance noises.

BADGERS DROP ANOTHER CLOSE ONE TO PURDUE

Lafayette, Ind.—(AP)—Purdue won a thrilling basketball game at the University of Wisconsin 32 to 31 Friday night. The Badgers' half-time advantage of 19 to 10 was wiped out early in the second half, and Wisconsin took the lead at 27 to 25 to hold until the closing minutes. A rally by the Badgers, however, secured the aid of William Fenske, captain of the Milwaukee Bowling association.

ATHLETES GATHER AT ILLINOIS CARNIVAL

Champaign, Ill.—(AP)—The pick of athletes from 14 universities colleges and high schools in the middle west were here Saturday for the ninth annual indoor relay carnival of the University of Illinois. Special event records were in danger due to the presence of outstanding individual stars such as Harrington of Notre Dame, who broke the world's collegiate indoor pole vault record recently; Rhodes, Nebraska's all-around star; Guthrie, Ohio's state hurdler; and McGinnis, Wisconsin's high jumper. Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Notre Dame and Illinois have track teams entered in the relays.

NEGRO AWARDED
TITLE ON POINTS
IN GARDEN FIGHTFormer Middleweight Champion Surprises Fans by Poor Showing

New York—(AP)—Theodore (Tiger) Flowers, a negro from Atlanta, Ga., 30 years old and veteran of eight years of ring battles, Saturday is middleweight champion of the world.

The crown is his by virtue of a 15 round victory on points over Harry Greb of Pittsburgh at Madison Square Garden Friday night. The margin was not large enough to convince the judges and referee. Greb was not what he had been in previous defenses of his title for after four rounds he forsook his "wind mill" attack and poised his right hand for a damaging blow.

This blow never landed and Flowers, lashing out continually, gained the verdict for aggressiveness and a willingness to fight throughout. Many critics argued that the decision should have been a draw. But the state athletic commission has ruled that fights shall be decided by the number of rounds won. Flowers, in the opinion of critics, had at least six of the rounds while Greb could muster no more than five. Four were even.

Flowers probably has suffered more knockouts than any other champion the world has known. He went into the test with Greb anything but favored because last winter Jack Delaney, the light heavyweight from Bridgeport, Conn., knocked him out twice.

Flowers is married and has one daughter. He formerly entered the ring at about 170 but by constant dieting has brought himself down to the middleweight limit.

22 TO 20 COUNTTeams Battle Five Overtime Periods Before Victor Is Returned

Little Chute—Battling Weyauwega high school cagers for five overtime periods, Coach Paulstrom's Little Chute five won its seventh game of the season by a 22-20 score in a terrific battle here Friday night at Legion hall before approximately 350 persons.

At the end of the regular playing period the teams were tied 15-15. Neither side added to its score in the first overtime period, an abrupt defense featuring the play of both teams. The second extra play-off was a repetition of the first.

Greene, lanky Weyauwega forward, caged a long field goal in the early part of the third extra period but Versteegen again knotted the count with a short shot just 12 seconds before the period ended. The next period again went scoreless. In the fifth and last extra period Vandenberg dropped in a field goal after dribbling through for a close-in shot, and the Chuters held their opponents scoreless until the game tied 20-20.

The home team took the lead early in the game, leading at the close of the first quarter 9 to 5, and at the end of the third quarter 16 to 12. A rally on the part of Weyauwega in the last score and almost resulted in defeat for the Paulstrom team.

You Can't Get Gold Out Of Air

That's a problem that baffles the most learned scientists. You can't pick any of the worthwhile things of life out of the thin air. If you want gold you've got to go into a gold mine after it—or make some form of payment to those who have mined it.

But, fortunately, it is not necessary to go into deep, dark, dank, underground passages for all of the worthwhile things of life.

There's the A-B-C Classified Section—right out in broad daylight—when the sun of prosperity is always shining!

You can get practically all of life's necessities and luxuries out of this section—whose profits are even synonymous with gold. It's an easy-chair method of selecting the things you want and need. It's a perfectly indexed catalogue of opportunity.

MINISTERS SEND 1,000 CARDS TO AID CIVIC WEEK

Ministerial Association Cooperates With Chamber of Commerce in Campaign

Appleton ministers have sent more than 1,000 cards to members of their congregations announcing services for Civic Sunday, March 7, which will mark the opening of Civic week program.

The Appleton Ministerial association is cooperating by stressing the importance of Civic week at the morning services in the various churches of the city, and it has helped work out the program for the big union meeting Sunday afternoon at Lawrence Memorial chapel. The address, "The Soul of Appleton," is to be given by Dan Weigle, St. Paul, famed "community evangelist" who will be in Appleton to conduct the Civic week program. Dr. Virgil B. Scott, is chairman of Civic Sunday.

In addition to Mr. Weigle's address the Sunday afternoon program includes congregational singing led by Dr. Earl L. Baker, of the Lawrence Conservatory of music, an invocation by the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical church, scripture reading by Dr. H. E. Peabody, and a short talk by Mayor John Goodland, who will outline the purposes of the civic program. J. P. Frank, general chairman of Civic week will introduce Mr. Weigle.

Letters were mailed to members of the chamber of commerce Friday evening officially announcing civic week. In each letter was a program for the week and a copy of Mayor Goodland's proclamation urging citizens to cooperate in every way possible to make the project a complete success.

Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, returned Friday night from Washington, D. C., where he attended the meeting of the superintendents' division of the National Education association. Some of the best known educators of the country were at the meetings, and Mr. Rohan conferred with several of them on the work of the local schools.

REGIONAL SCOUT CHIEF WILL TALK HERE MAR. 16

A rally of officers and district committee representatives of the Valley Scout council, at which C. M. Finnell, Chicago, regional executive of the Boy Scouts of America will discuss a program of Scout activities for the balance of the year, will be held here on March 16, it was decided at a luncheon of the Appleton district committee Friday noon at the Conway Hotel. Mr. Finnell attended the luncheon and pointed out some of the activities which he hoped the district committee would be responsible for in the future. He did not outline any definite program for 1926 preferring to wait until the entire valley council assembled.

ALLEGED CHECK ARTIST GOES ON TRIAL MONDAY

W. H. Othman, charged with cashing a worthless check at the Joseph Zickler shoe store, 129 S. Walnut-st., Feb. 13, will be tried in municipal court Monday morning. Othman was freed on $50 bond when he was arraigned on Monday, Feb. 15. He is alleged to have cashed a worthless check for $15 drawn on the National Manufacturers Bank of Newnan.

EMPLOYES GIVE ELLIS PIN AS BIRTHDAY GIFT

A. K. Ellis, vice president and general manager of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co., and a number of affiliated companies was given a diamond stick pin $500 worth by employees of the various companies as a birthday anniversary gift. The presentation was made Saturday morning in Mr. Ellis' office by Frank W. Grogan who acted in behalf of the employees.

BUSSES HOPE TO START RUNNING EARLY IN WEEK

Transportation of all kinds will be back on normal schedule by next week following the disruption caused by Thursday's storm. An effort will be made to begin operating busses between Appleton, New London and Green Bay early next week, it was said.

Investigation disclosed that the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. was the only electric utility in this part of the state which was able to keep operating its cars during and after the storm. Service on the electric line between Green Bay and Kaukauna was suspended from Thursday until Friday night, and the Oshkosh Neenah line resumed operations Friday noon after an idleness of about 18 hours.

WANT ALL UNSOLD RED CROSS SEALS RETURNED

Mrs. C. O. Goehbauer, chairman of the Red Cross Christmas seal campaign in this city, has requested that all persons in Appleton who have not turned in the seals they have not paid for do so at once so that a final check-up on the campaign may be completed early in March. Mrs. Goehbauer said $166.81 has been received from the sale of seals.

GLENN FRANK TO TALK OVER RADIO ON MONDAY NIGHT

Is First Chance for All the People to Hear University President

Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, will give a special radio address from the university radio station, WHA, at 9 o'clock Monday night, according to a letter received by Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, W. H. Lighty of the University Extension division in Madison.

The new president of the University is generally regarded as one of the foremost public speakers in the country, Mr. Lighty said, and this is the first opportunity offered to all of the people of Wisconsin to hear him. The speech will be used as a test of the broadcasting station and the extension division has urged people to report on the kind of a reception.

The Michigan-Wisconsin basketball game will be broadcasted from the same station at 7:30 Monday evening. Station WHA broadcasts on a wave length of 535.4 meters, the same wave length as KYW of Chicago with which time is divided. When one station broadcasts the other station is silent, so if one can hear KYW, the University should also be heard.

LIGHT OPERA IN CONCERT BY BAND

Varied Program Will Be Played by Artillery Band in College Chapel

Selections from two of the most popular of light operas, "The Prince of Pilsen," and "The Royal Chef," will enliven the concert to be played by the 120th Field Artillery Band Monday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel. The program which Edward F. Mumm, band leader, has arranged, is well balanced, having selections from heavy and light operas, as well as some semi-popular melodies.

The final number will be one of the most elaborate ever presented by the local musicians—the grand selection from Verdi's famous opera, "Il Trovatore." Almost the entire score of this well known and favorite opera will be played.

Herbert Hedig, director of Appleton vocational school will give a 5-minute talk on "The Value of the 120th Field Artillery Band from the standpoint of the Educator." This will be the first of a series of short talks to be given at band concerts by men in different professions, emphasizing the importance of Appleton people backing the band.

Markets

FOUNDATION IN BIG COLLAPSE

Bear Drive Against Stock Causes It to Drop Twenty-one Points

New York—(AP)—A bear drive against common stock of the Foundation Company, which collapsed 21 points, was the feature of Saturday's irregularly lower stock market. Resumption of bear attacks against a number of vulnerable specialties coming after the sharp break of Friday brought out another large volume of forced liquidation from traders who were unwilling or unable to meet their margin calls. Strong bank support was provided, however, for United States Steel common and a number of other high grade industrial stocks. United States Steel common and Import were bid up 3 to 3 1/2, but most of the top prices were shaded when acute weakness developed in Foundation Company. The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 950,000 shares.

Strong buying support was in evidence at the opening and prices moved irregularly higher. The sharp break Friday apparently had resulted in a number of margin calls, with the result that General Electric broke 3 points and several others yielded large fractions. Initial gains of a point or more were recorded by Hudson Motors, Studebaker, New York Central and Radio Corporation. United States Steel common opened at 125, up half.

Resumption of bear attacks against the high priced industrials and specialties brought out another large volume of forced liquidation which gave the market a rather unsettled appearance during the early trading.

Strong support continued, however, for a sprinkling of motors and high grade industrials such as Hudson, Mack Trucks, United States Steel common, Dupont and American Smelting. Strength of the Vansvering issues featured the rail group. New York common broke nearly six points to 4 1/2. American Brake shoe and foundry dropped 5 1/2, and foundation company 1 1/2 and foundation company 1 1/2 while General Electric extended its decline to 5 points before buoyant support was sufficient to withstand the tide of selling. Pennsylvania, Atchafon, Chrysler and National Clock and Surt were among the many issues to get New low levels for the year. Purch exchanges opened steady, demand sterling ruling around $18.9-16 and French Francs at 3.67 1/2 cents.

CITY SHOULD BUY PARK ON RIVER FRONT

Plans of Park Board to Beautify Pierce Park Await Council Sanction

BY O. P. FAIRFIELD
President of the Park Board
The Board of Park Commissioners of the city of Appleton is composed of Charles Boyd, Jacob Wolf, B. J. Zuehlke, with James Wood, Secretary, and O. P. Fairfield, president. These members serve without pay and therefore in times pertaining to our parks. Of course their judgments are fallible but their actions are as free from personal interest as those of any public body. It is characteristic of any public action that there is a party that favors and one that opposes.

The year has brought considerable improvement to the parks of Appleton. We are not deficient in the number of acres or the distribution of our parks, but we have lagged greatly in their improvement. The old comfort station in Jones park was unspeakably bad. A new one has been completed, not perfect, but very serviceable. Ebb park on the north side was unusable until this summer. A road has been built from the street to the wooded area; roots and stumps and underbrush have been removed; the well put in order, and many picnic parties found it a pleasant spot. The baseball players made good use of our beginnings of a baseball diamond. The ravine north of Packard-st was added to the park area this last year, furnishing another skating rink. This winter, and will make a safe playground for the children next summer.

The greatest improvement has been made in Alicia park. The camp kitchen and barn interfered with both the view and the pleasurable use of the level space on the river bluff. Both have been moved to places where their use is even greater. The level space has been graded, seeded, and no doubt will be increasingly popular for the view and picnic suppers. The cabin is now at the service of the public, and a small dancing platform built upon the old foundation near by. The east side of the park has been graded and made ready for tennis courts or ball grounds. The surplus dirt was used to fill the little ravine to the north, once unsightly with timbers and old iron.

The most important improvement of last summer was blocked by a change in the law regarding park boards. Pierce park offers great possibilities for development. For its acreage it is not surpassed by any Chicago park. The park board hoped to increase the natural beauty of this area by a beautiful stone entrance on Prospect and by roads that would carry one to the river view, along and across the ravine; by a little lake and wild flowers in the ravine; by playgrounds for young and older; by decent comfort stations, adequate water supply and a band stand and dance pavilion.

The plans are all made and wait upon the action of the City Council in providing funds for their realization. We confidently hope for this

Smocks, Latest Fad, Are As Practical As Pretty

Laundry and dry cleaning bills are being kept down by stenographers, clerks and housekeepers by the growing popularity of the smock. Pastel shaded lawn material, flowered cretonnes, and black sateen with bright colored cuffs and collar have been appearing on girls in almost every business establishment within the last few weeks.

These smocks are long sleeved, thus protecting the cuffs of the dress from soiling and are so long they reach almost to the bottom of the dress. They button conveniently down the front.

Several years ago the smock came into style as a part of the wardrobe but then it was only for wear with a skirt to serve as a blouse. Now it is a first cousin to the apron, but has the advantages of being more artistic and therefore more appealing. The bright colors are especially attractive now when women have been wearing sombre winter things.

The black smock has the advantage of not showing that it is soiled as quickly as the light colored, and the bright figured material around the neck and cuffs adds a light note. The housekeeper will welcome the vogue of the smock as a way to keep her dress from becoming spotted when she comes home from a bridge party and wants to keep on a long sleeved silk or wool dress. Contrary to many of the fads acquired by women, the smock fashion is a practical and an economical one.

POLICE ARE SUCCESSFUL AS CITY TAX DUNNERS

Appleton residents are responding favorably to the efforts of the police department to collect delinquent dog license taxes, according to police records. The taxes were due on Feb. 1 and the task of collecting them from the "waiters" was turned over to the police soon after. Two officers are doing the work and they find that the sight of a uniform encourages payment.

achievement in 1926 Appleton will then have a real community recreation ground which we shall all be proud to show our visiting friends.

One improvement which the park board would much like to see but which is not in their power to accomplish is the addition of river frontage to our park area. Pierce park has very slight river frontage. Alicia is more favored. Water is a large factor in the attractiveness of any park. Great sums of money are spent on artificial lakes, lagoons, and the like. We have a great asset in the river bank between these two parks and it is as yet unimproved. The same foresight that was exercised in the purchase of Pierce park is needed now to secure what may easily become one of the great attractions of Appleton.

The plans are all made and wait upon the action of the City Council in providing funds for their realization. We confidently hope for this

NEENAH PAPER MAGNATE LAUDS STATE RESEARCH

F. J. Sensenbrenner Praises Study Being Made of Stream Pollution Problem

Constructive research work being conducted by the Wisconsin railroad commission and the state department of health to find a solution of the problem of stream pollution has been highly praised by F. J. Sensenbrenner of Neenah, vice president and general manager of the Kimberly-Clark Paper Co. The state as a whole is to be congratulated on the work, according to Mr. Sensenbrenner.

For the past two years, paper manufacturers have been working with state officials in trying to solve this problem and the cooperation in this matter has been wonderful, Mr. Sensenbrenner said.

We are here in favor of the work being carried on by the railroad commission, the state health department, and the forest products laboratory, and I am certain every paper manufacturer in the state can be counted in on this work. We welcome the disposition on the part of the state, to cooperate with industry in solving the problem," he said.

Paper manufacturers agree that the pollution of streams, caused by the discharge of waste materials from the paper mills has reached proportions which call for immediate changes and they are willing to do anything the state may suggest to remedy the situation, Mr. Sensenbrenner said.

The findings of the railroad commission in the so-called Park Falls case are encouraging, Mr. Sensenbrenner declared.

"While several years have been devoted to research work in this matter the decision in the Park Falls case is probably just a beginning of cooperative investigation," Mr. Sensenbrenner said.

"We manufacturers have recognized the evil effects of the present method of waste disposal, and we feel the decision makes for effective, efficient and direct steps toward improvement, with the various interests working together."

GARVEY AND WEYENBERG LAND BRIDGE CONTRACT

Garvey and Weyenberg Construction Co. of Appleton was awarded the contract for construction of the Hart bridge on the town of Poygan, Winnebago-co., at a meeting of the Winnebago-co. road and bridge committee at Oshkosh this week. The bridge will be concrete and will be constructed this summer. The bid of the Appleton firm was $2,065. Contracts for the construction of two other concrete bridges in the county also were awarded at the meeting.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission of Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Readiness of Men for Christ

Read Jn. 4:35-42. Text: 4:35. Look on the field . . . that they are white already unto harvest.

Meditation—Look! Never had men such a field for doing great deeds of goodness as today. It is easy to magnify the significance of the adventuring faith of yesterday—and to minimize the opportunity of today.

Look again—the great chance is not four months ahead, it is now. Now is the great day of the Lord's opportunity. We have an open door to great works of service, greater by far than confronted Jesus and the twelve. We can help others to fuller life by sharing ours. Not the amount of money we have but the proportion of ourselves we give. To this new and greater day—Jesus calls us over the tumult.

Prayer—O Thou who didst redeem the time and didst discover the great-

FIRST CHARTER MEMBER IS LOST TO LEGION POST

Walter Bartman, Black Creek, World War veteran, who died last Saturday, was the first member of Oney Johnston post, according to information received from George Dame, Thursday afternoon. Although Mr. Bartman made his home in Black Creek he took a great deal of interest in the Legion work being done here, as there is no post in his village. He held membership card No. 1 in the local post from its organization until his death.

A large number of Appleton Legionnaires attended the funeral in Black Creek, and some of them assisted in the military burial service.

ness of the commonplace, help us to see the harvest of fruitful opportunity hidden in the field of ordinary life. Teach us its larger meaning. Show us the real values, lest we sell our days for a mess of pottage when he might have won life by giving life. Amen.

Association Warns Against Hunting During Spring Flight Season

Warning to "hunters" in this county to leave their guns at home during the spring flight season is being issued by the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association. A warden has been employed to patrol the river from Stroebe's island to the county line below Kaukauna, and another will be employed in the near future to work during the height of the spring flight season. The man chosen this week has been appointed a deputy sheriff through the efforts of the association and the other warden probably will receive the same appointment. The new warden already is working along the river.

Hundreds of whistlers and fish ducks are on the river at present and bluebills will soon arrive, officers of the association said. Too much shooting is done during the spring flight

TINY GLDA MAKES MEN GET UP NIGHT

Do you know that a very high percentage of all men of mature years are troubled with disorders of a little gland—the prostate. When this vital gland begins to slow up many ailments arise, such as pains in the back and legs, frequent night risings, general debility, weakness and dizziness, painful, smearing difficult urination, and lack of control. But at last, there is a treatment for this gland that has brought relief to thousands. This treatment is perfectly harmless, and marvelous have been its results. For a short time it is being offered absolutely free to convince people of its amazing efficiency. ABSOLUTELY FREE. Just send your name and address and 10c to help pay the postage and packing and you will get by return mail a Full Sized Sample Package. But act at once as this offer is made for a short time only. YOU ARE ENTITLED! TO KNOW THE FACTS!

20,000,000 motor vehicles now travel the American highways.

50,000,000 Americans ride in these cars every day in the year.

Safety for this vast army of travelers is a national issue, and where safety is involved plain speaking is a public duty.

It is high time the public realized—as experts have long realized—that automobile bodies should be made of steel—not of wood or any other fragile material.

Indeed, it is one of the mysteries of this usually progressive industry that the all steel body is not already in universal use.

It will be before long. Public opinion will demand it—as it now demands that railway sleeping cars be all steel.

For even a child knows that steel is stronger than wood—that steel will not splinter or burn—and that all steel bodies will stand up under impacts that would crush ordinary bodies to bits.

That is why Dodge Brothers pioneered in introducing the the all steel body—pioneered again recently, in improving and perfecting it—pioneer, now, in urging its adoption by every automobile builder in the world.

The issue is plain—

Manufacturers must build safely if the automobile industry is to hold its present high place in public usefulness and esteem.

And the all steel body—as exemplified in Dodge Brothers Motor Car—is the greatest single advance in motoring safety made in the last fifteen years.

The car will continue to be a "four." No reasoning buyer will be distracted from the issue of QUALITY by mere CYLINDER propaganda.
